THE CALL TO ARMS.

Midnight Alarms Sounded on the Franco-German Frontier.

GLADSTONE SEIZED WITH CHILLS AND CONFINED TO HIS ROOM.

Ex-King Milan Forced to Liquidate a Debt—Brilliant Entertainments Given by the Countess Waldersee—Theatrical, Musical and Art Topics of the British Capital.

LONDON, May 11.—A Strassburg correspondent states that a curious sort of exercise is going on among the German and French garrisons near the frontier. In order to have them prepared for the sudden attack of an enemy, the men are aroused unexpectedly in the middle of the night and made to turn out with arms ready for battle. Last week the garrison at Metz was aroused in this way three times, and in Strassburg there is at least one alarm a week. The French this month have begun the same practice, so that on each side of the frontier the call "to arms" is heard in the dead of night as if an actual war was going on. Three Alsatians arrested near Pettoncourt, on the frontier, while attempting to escape into France, in order to avoid military service, have been brought prisoners into Strassburg, and will be tried by the military authorities. This kind of desertion has of late been so frequent that the punishment will probably be severe.

MUST PAY THEIR RAILWAY FARE.

The Kaiser has given orders, through the Minister of Public Works, that no person shall be permitted to ride free on the Government railways unless actually engaged in the service of the Government, and that officials allowing any violation of this rule shall be dismissed. This will put an end to free traveling for pleasure, not only by officers of the army and others, but also by members of some of the ruling houses of Germany who have been in the habit, on account of their more or less honorary military rank, of traveling free of charge.

THE COUNTESS WALDERSEE.

A Hamburg dispatch says that the Countess Waldersee has been giving some brilliant entertainments at Altona, where her husband is in military command, and that distinguished guests have come from as far as Berlin. The Countess retains much of the beauty which she had when as Miss Lee of New York she won the heart of the Prince of Noer.

The workmen of Geestemunde propose to perfect a testimonial to Schmalfield, the Socialist shoemaker, in memory of his championship of the Socialist cause against Prince Bismarck in the recent election. Schmalfield has received letters from all parts of Germany and Europe, congratulating him on the run which he made against the ex-Chancellor.

CURRENT BERLIN TOPICS.

The appeal of the Italian government to other European governments in demanding from the United States protection for resident aliens is laughed at in Berlin, says a dispatch, in view of the increase of Italian emigrants to America. It is believed that Germany will refuse to take any part in any such demand.

Duke Gunther, the Kaiser's brother-in-law, is under a cloud for absence without leave from his regiment in Berlin. The Kaiser, to whose knowledge the matter came, has intimated to his relative that he must give strict attention to his military duties. The young man, who is unmarried, is leading a life of unusual gayety.

TO PROTECT FISHERMEN.

STEAMERS SHOULD BE COMPELLED TO AVOID PASSING THE BANKS OF NEWFOUNDLAND.

PARIS, May 11.—The report of Admiral Vallon of the French navy in regard to the dangers run by fishermen in Newfoundland waters from the large ocean steamships has been submitted to Parliament.

In an interview upon the subject Admiral Vallon declares that transatlantic steamships should be compelled to avoid passing the banks of Newfoundland. The Admiral says that ocean steamers could easily make a detour, which would be a matter of about four hours' extra time to them and would avoid any danger of running down the fishing boats. The French transatlantic steamship companies, the Admiral adds, ought to show the other companies an example in this matter, and in future make the detour which would avoid dangers complained of by the fishermen.

The officials of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, the French steamship line, when asked if they were disposed to adopt Admiral Vallon's suggestion, replied that they did not intend to alter their route as collisions between steamships and fishing boats on the banks were extremely rare.

THE NEWFOUNDLAND LEGISLATURE.

HALIFAX, May 11.—Newfoundland papers received last night give lively reports of proceedings in the Legislature over the secession from the ranks of the Government supporters of Mr. Fearn, member for St. Barbe, and the exciting passages between that gentleman and Colonial Secretary Bond. Mr. Fearn declared that tariff was oppressive to the fishermen and laboring classes, while the wealthy escape their fair share of taxes. He moved an amendment placing salt on the free list, reducing the duty on tea, molasses and the cheaper grades of flour and imposing stamps and income taxes.

GLADSTONE ILL.

SEIZED WITH FITS OF SHIVERING—THE DOCTOR'S STATEMENT.

LONDON, May 11.—Mr. Gladstone is the latest of the prominent men of Great Britain to be announced as on the sick list. Mr. Gladstone went to church as usual yesterday morning and seemed to be enjoying his usual health. In the afternoon, however, the veteran statesman was seized with a succession of shivering fits. Mrs. Gladstone, alarmed at the symptoms, sent for Sir Andrew Clark, Mr. Gladstone's family physician. The latter, though not pronouncing Mr. Gladstone's illness to be of a serious nature, declares that Mr. Gladstone must not leave his room for several days.

GOLD TO RUSSIA.

LONDON, May 11.—The gold movement hence to Russia is likely to be restricted. A million and a half of gold was drawn from the open market to-day. Russia's other requirements were supplied from Paris and Frankfort. There is no belief in war, though the frontier situation shows greater preparedness than hitherto.

EXPELLED FROM FRANCE.

A report has reached this city from Paris to the effect that Mr. R. Cunningham Graham, Liberal member of Parliament for the Northwestern division of Lanarkshire, Scotland, has been expelled from France because of utterances offensive to the French Government which he is alleged to have made at a Socialist meeting held in Paris last night.

TRADE RELATIONS.

A QUESTION OF INTEREST TO CANADIAN CATTLE DEALERS.

OTTAWA, Ontario, May 11.—The Government has made overtures to the imperial authorities through Sir Charles Tupper to learn whether the present arrangements under the operation of which cattle are exported from Canada to Great Britain will be continued if American cattle are allowed to be slaughtered in bond within the Dominion. This has reference to the proposed Bender Dead Meat Co. scheme for abattoirs at Three Rivers, to which Canadian cattle shippers are opposed on the ground that it would place their trade in danger of being scheduled with that of Americans in British ports, thus depriving them of the present discrimination in favor of the Canadian trade.

TAX ON UNLEAVENED BREAD.

The Customs Department, it has transpired, refused the application of Toronto Hebrews who wanted to import unleavened bread for the Passover feast free of duty. The department decided that the importation must be taxed 20 per cent ad valorem.

THE JAMAICA EXPOSITION.

Adams S. Brown, Canadian Commissioner to the Jamaica Exposition, returned from Kingston, Jamaica, Sunday, and reports the exhibition a great success in everything but its finances. Mr. Brown says the people of Jamaica feel very sore over the neglect of the United States, with which the largest part of the trade of the island is done, to take part in the exhibition. Strong efforts are being made to induce the Government commissioners to Washington to see if Mr. Blaine can be induced to allow existing relations between the two countries to continue. The island wants to hold on its trade with the United States, but does not want to come under the reciprocity provisions of the McKinley bill for the reason that to abolish or materially lower its tariff on American breadstuffs and manufactures will cripple its revenue as well as discriminate against England and her colonies.

THE LONDON THEATERS.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK IN THE DRAMATIC, MUSICAL AND SOCIAL WORLD.

LONDON, May 11.—In spite of the ravages caused by the "grip," otherwise influenza, in the ranks of society, many of the leaders of fashion being victims of the somewhat mystic power of the unpopular complaint, the London season of theatrical, musical and social enjoyment is in full swing and everybody seems pleased with its cadence.

For Monday next at the Royal Albert Hall, the very last and absolutely final concert of the veteran singer, Sims Reeves, is announced. The veteran, who is certain of a most enthusiastic "send off," will be supported by Christine Nillsson, who will come on purpose from Madrid, in order to do honor to Mr. Reeves; Mme. Eaton, Miss Alice Gomez, Mme. Antoinette Sterling, Herbert Reeves, Barrington Foote and Signor Foli. In addition Henry Irving has promised to be present, and influenza permitting, he will "speak a farewell address," written for the occasion by Walter Pollock.

The Royal Naval Exhibition, which should be visited and "made note of" by the Chicago World's Fair managers, is the newest, freshest and most novel entertainment of the very long list of places where you can feast your eyes and ears in this city at present.

The Vaudeville Theater experiment of furnishing feasts of Ibsenism has so far justified the venture, and should the matinees of the "Lady of the Sea," at Terry's Theater prove nearly equally successful, Wilson Barrett, who has decided, by the advice of his friends before touring the Provinces, to make another attempt at winning public favor with the old American success, the "Silver King," may redeem his promise and give us a taste of Ibsen's "Pillars of Society."

It is now definitely announced that Miss Marion Lea, the American actress who has been making such a hit in Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler" at the Vaudeville, has become engaged to marry the son of Dr. Weir of Philadelphia.

Wagner's "Tannhauser" was recently produced at Toulouse amid multitudinous applause. There was absolutely no sign of the Chauvinism which it was expected would be displayed by the extra patriotic section of the good people of that city upon the presentation of the German master's great opera.

Harancourt, whose passion poem created a sensation after it had been recited by Sarah Bernhardt, has turned out to be a first-rate artist. His friends are now admiring an exhibition of pastels which are the fruit of the genius.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

EX-KING MILAN PAYS A DEBT—A BANK'S RESOURCES SAPPED.

VIENNA, May 11.—Ex-King Milan met with a great disappointment at Vienna, when he presented to the bank which does business for the Servian Government in that city a check for 600,000 francs. It appears that when Milan was King he contracted debts to the bank for about 300,000 francs. In honoring the check this amount was deducted, greatly to Milan's disgust, he claiming that the State ought to pay the debt. He took 300,000 francs under protest.

A BANK'S RESOURCES SAPPED.

LISBON, May 11.—The Luzitano Bank of this city, which on last Friday was reported to be in difficulty, has been for a long time in a doubtful condition. The institution did a highly speculative business in underwriting loans. It is probable that the failure of a recent Government loan sapped its resources. The Government refused to grant the bank a delay of six months in which to liquidate, but had it referred to the Tribunal of Commerce. It is estimated that on Friday and Saturday last silver to the value of $1,280,000 was withdrawn from the banks of Lisbon. One individual, a nobleman, drew $12,500, all of which was handed to him in silver, to the amusement of bystanders. Troops guarded the doors of the bank. Bills were readily discounted at from 7 to 7½ per cent.

RENOUNCED HIS NEW RELIGION.

LONDON, May 11.—From Ostrohog, Posen, comes news of an extraordinary affair. A man named Kaftan changed his religion, he having been a Lutheran, in order to marry a Jewess with whom he had become infatuated. The young woman married him and for a time they lived happily. Kaftan was perpetually irritated by the taunts of his former coreligionists and the thought of his apostacy preyed on his mind. A few days ago he was found dead in his house with a written recantation of Judaism lying beside him. He had cut his throat.

PEACE IN HONDURAS.

CITY OF MEXICO, via Galveston, May 10.—Peace has been established in Honduras and the revolutionary movement started at Amapala by Domingo Visquez is at an end. It is not true that Guatemalan troops took part in the movement, or that peace in Guatemala has been interrupted.

THE GROWING CROPS.

Bulletin Issued by the Illinois Weather Service—Frosted Fruit-Buds.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 11.—The weather crop bulletin of the Illinois Weather Service reviews as follows: The weather throughout the State for the week ending May 8: The temperature of last week has been below the average throughout the State. Frosts occurred May 6 and 7, doing considerable damage to the small fruits and tender vegetables in the southern counties. Other fruits, it is thought, sustain but slight injury. In the northern and central counties the damage was not so great, except as to small fruit and garden truck. Generally clear weather prevailed during the week. Heavy rains occurred in the southern counties of the State during the week, but in the northern and central counties the amount of precipitation was below a seasonable average.

CROPS IN HUNGARY.

BUDA PESTH, May 11.—The crop report to date shows that barley, oats, rye and feeding stuffs throughout Hungary have suffered greatly, owing to the excessive heat which has prevailed recently. The wheat crop is a fair average.

IN WALLS OF FIRE.

Thirty Men Fatally Burned While Fighting Forest Flames.

THE TERRIBLE DISASTER WHICH OCCURRED NEAR AUSTIN, PA.

An Entire Train Consumed—Towns Threatened With Destruction—Whole Townships Burned Over—The Oil Region Ablaze—Lumber Districts Devastated—Fires in Michigan and Wisconsin.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 11.—A Bradford (Pa.) special says: Destructive forest fires have been raging in the surrounding country for forty-eight hours. The flames are particularly fierce around Austin, in Potter County. A work train was sent out of Austin last night over the Sinnemahoning Railroad to fight the fire with seventy men on board. The train was surrounded by the devastating elements and completely destroyed, and it was with difficulty that any of those on board escaped. As it was twenty-five men were seriously, if not fatally burned, and four are missing. Among the latter is Supt. Badger of the Sinnemahoning Railroad. There are no telegraph facilities at the scene and information is difficult to secure.

A special from Austin tells the story of the burning of the train and places the number of those fatally burned at thirty, though the correspondent says it is impossible to give the details of the terrible calamity or the names of those missing or injured.

The train had been halted at what was supposed to be a safe distance from the burning woods, but a change in the direction of the wind swept the flames directly toward the cars, and like a flash they were enveloped in the folds of the destroying element. The brigade of fire fighters were driven back and for a time hemmed in by the walls of fire which surrounded the train. Only another fortunate shifting of the wind saved them from complete annihilation. As it is thirty of the number are badly if not fatally burned and four of the seventy men who went into the woods are missing. They are undoubtedly dead.

Austin is threatened with destruction and the whole country is engaged in fighting the devastating element. Many of the people have given up hope and are now turning their attention in the direction of escape from the path of the fire. The great lumber region about Dallas is badly damaged, the flames having been at work for the past forty-eight hours.

IN THE OIL REGION.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 11.—A special from Oil City, Pa., says: A message just received from Superintendent Strong of the Oil City Fuel Co., from Pine Grove Township, says that thus far thirteen oil wells have been burnt, four gas wells of the Fuel Supply Co. and nine oil wells of the North Pennsylvania Oil Co. The fire is still burning. Minor forest fires, for some of which arrests are expected of fishermen and boys, are reported from various points in this section. The fuel company is in receipt of messages to-day from Elk and Clearfield counties, announcing serious forest fires which are spreading.

FROM KEATING'S SUMMIT.

KEATING SUMMIT, Pa., May 11.—The fire now raging south and east of Austin started on the land of F. H. and C. W. Goodyear. The fire has been burning since Friday noon. It is estimated that 30,000,000 feet of logs and 10,000 cords of bark have been destroyed, besides ten miles of tram railroad. Telephonic and telegraphic communications are cut off.

BLAZING FORESTS IN WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 11.—Forest fires have been raging for the last forty-eight hours in the country to the southwest of West Superior, and an immense amount of pine has been destroyed. The fire reached the suburbs of that city and destroyed some property of small value. South Superior, now St. Louis, was thought to be doomed, but a big new hotel and a few stores in the city were saved by the people digging ditches and stopping the progress of the flames in the streets. Five hundred cords of wood and two sawmills were burned, loss $12,000. A shower arrested the flames, and a strong wind is beating the fire back. From Bayfield it is reported that immediate danger from forest fires to that place is considerably abated. Fires are still burning, with considerale loss of timber to the company. The wind passed to the northwest, thus driving the fire away from the town.

FOREST FIRES RAGING.

IMMENSE TRACTS OF TIMBER BEING MOWED DOWN BY FLAMES.

LEXINGTON, Mich., May 11.—Reports from several points in Mason and Lake Counties indicate that the forest fires of last week are surpassed in point of destructiveness by fires raging in that section. Immense tracts of timber in Freezell, Sherman, Branch, Custer and Eden townships are said to be all on fire, while in Lake County the woods lining the T. & P. M. R. R. have been burning for the past two days.

Clare—Reports from Merideth this morning state that the woods all about town are on fire, and the town in imminent danger of destruction. Hackerly Hume and A. W. Right's pine woods are now burning with great heat, and the high winds sweep flames about at will. The air is fairly black with smoke. Communication with the upper part of the county is likely to be cut off any time by the burning of telegraph poles. Much concern is felt for a number of small villages set in the woods in that upper part of the county.

Tawas—For two days past the air in this vicinity has been thick with smoke from immense forest fires raging in the woods back of here and said to extend to the county line. Taxt, in Reno Township, is surrounded by fire, and no word can be obtained from there.

Oscoda—Forest fires have leaped over into Oscoda and Wildbur Townships and are being driven directly to this city by half a gale from the west. Much uneasiness is felt, and unless the wind changes, no one can tell what the result will be, as the twin cities of Oscoda and Ausible are directly in the path of the wind, which sweeps over tremendous fires and blows its hot breath over cities. The air is stifling. The big lumber yards of H. N. Lord & Co. caught fire last night and burned so fiercely that help was summoned from Alpena. The fire was not checked until $100,000 worth of lumber had been burned and over a hundred rods of trams destroyed. The firemen fought against a high wind, which swept everything. All efforts to fight the flames were abandoned and the fire burned its life out at the beach. The amount of lumber burned will reach 7,000,000 feet. By hard work all but five residences were saved, although a large portion of Oscoda village was in close proximity to the fire. The lumber company is fully insured. It is the largest lumber fire ever experienced here.

Alpena—Black River, 20 miles below, is threatened, and has telegraphed for aid. A special, with fire engine and crew, left here. Bad as is the condition in the lower peninsula, where 130 miles of timber is on fire, the upper peninsula is even worse.

Ishpeming—Forest fires are raging all around the city, but no danger of the city burning. Mile after mile of fire along the road-bed of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad south and nearly to Escanaba. Telegraph poles are being destroyed and communication is likely to be cut off any time. Nothing but drenching rain for two days can prevent tremendous damage.

Marquette—Reports from all along the line of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railroad show great fires and large property damage. The railroad bridge at Chessel burned and traffic will be suspended.

Hancock—Reports from Houghton, Danse and Ontanangon show forest fires burning all over the copper country. The Osceola stamp-mill burned at Chessel and several farm-houses and barns and a bridge were consumed. The Sturgeon River Co., Nester Estate and Diamond Match Co. lose heavily. Lake Superior, from Marquette to Keweenaw Point, is fairly black with smoke and all fog whistles are kept blowing constantly.

BURNING COTTON ON A STEAMER.

WILMINGTON, N. C., May 11.—The steamer El Monte of the Morgan Line from New Orleans to New York, with a cargo of cotton, put into Southport at 9 o'clock this morning with the cotton on fire. The fire was discovered when about 100 miles south of Southport. It is now apparently under control. The burned cotton will be discharged at once and the ship will probably proceed on her voyage to-morrow.

The extent of the damage has not been ascertained. The elmont is a large four-masted steamer and came over the bar drawing 20 feet 10 inches.

SWEEPING OVER PENNSYLVANIA.

CLEARFIELD, Pa., May 11.—Forest fires have swept over a large portion of this county and lumbermen are suffering great loss. The sky is lighted up in all directions and the smoke was so dense in this place last night that people could scarcely breathe. The town of Ourwensville, with 2,000 population, is threatened and 300 men are ready to go to their assistance from here.

THE KANSAS CITY BLAZE.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 11.—Last night fire entirely destroyed the cable depot at the foot of the Ninth street incline and did considerable damage to an adjoining rooming house. It was 4 o'clock this morning before the fire was under control. Loss about $20,000.

ELEVATORS DESTROYED.

SALEM, S. D., May 11.—The elevators and warehouses of Thompson Bros. and J. B. Powell & Co. were totally burned yesterday. About four thousand bushels of wheat, corn and oats, car on the track and a portion of the track were burned. The loss is $20,000, uninsured.

PLANO OPERA-HOUSE.

PLANO, Ill., May 11.—The Opera-house, four implement and warehouse buildings and two dwellings were burned yesterday and the brick block that contains the Post-office was damaged. The loss will reach $80,000.

FOUNDRY BURNED.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., May 11.—The Douglass Foundry, along with the surrounding buildings at Chateaugay, N. Y., were destroyed by fire yesterday. Loss, $75,000.

THE SWIFT ETATA.

She Will Show a Clean Pair of Heels to the Charleston.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The Times says: Those who know the swift little Etata, whose career is thought to be threatened by the action of certain United States cruisers, are of opinion that the vessel is quite as safe as if she were in the harbor at Valparaiso. "The swiftest cruiser in the United States navy," said a gentleman yesterday who had made several voyages on the fugitive steamer, "could not catch the Etata, now that she has so long a lead. She has remarkable speed and can steam fifteen knots day in and day out. Seventeen knots is by no means too much for her. She is a comparatively new British built boat, with very fine lines and improved compound engines. She is 290 feet long and her tonnage is something near 2,000. In view of the fact that she was built to compete with the Pacific Steam Navigation Co., she is of necessity a first-class vessel in every respect. To send the Omaha in chase of such a craft would be like sending a tortoise after a reindeer. If the Etata is caught it will be by the San Francisco or Pensacola heading her off, but even in that event she could run into one of the numerous ports along the coast and take advantage of the neutral water to protect herself. The officers of the Etata are Englishmen and they know every anchorage along that coast as well as you know the numbers on Broadway. Naturally they will hug the shore to prevent being caught very far outside neutral water."

SECRECY AT WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 11.—The air of secrecy that surrounds the Etata case is just as pronounced as ever at the Navy Department to-day and it is evident that the officials have no desire to take the public into their confidence. The conviction is, however, general that the United States steamer Charleston has been sent out from San Francisco with secret orders to overtake or capture the Chilian steamer. Just how far these orders extend or how much authority they vest in Capt. Remey is still unknown, and none of the officials here will venture to give out any information on the subject. Indeed, the fact of the orders having been sent, is not acknowledged officially, but it is confirmed by various stray bits of knowledge that have come forth from various sources. The order, it is said, was a long one, and was wired west in the cipher of the Bureau of Navigation. It took two officers four or five hours to translate the order into the cipher.

It is said that there is information in the hands of the Government to warrant the belief that the Etata will be next heard of as touching at a Mexican port, and it is probable that the Charleston will make her first stop about midway down the west coast of Mexico, not in the hope of finding her quarry there, but of picking up hints as to her whereabouts. Neither Secretary Tracy nor Mr. Soley was at the Department.

THE OMAHA AND CHARLESTON.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 11.—A dispatch from San Pedro says the United States vessels Omaha and Charleston came to anchor off that place last evening and exchanged signals.

IS SHE AFTER THE ETATA?

SAN PEDRO, Cal., May 11.—The cruiser Charleston, which arrived off here at 7 o'clock last night, remained until 5 o'clock this morning, at which hour she left, going south.

Golden Chain Humane Society.

The regular meeting of the Children's Humane Education Society was held on Saturday at Hotel Richelieu, the President presiding.

Readings: "Suffering Cattle on the Plains," by Chas. P. Capen, Secretary; "War Costs More Than Humane Education," by Ryan Quinn; "The Bleeding of Live Calves," and "Humane Work the Noblest Charity," by Myrtle and Alex Swarz. Daisy Stuart, the youngest member of the society, stated that she had kindly reproved a woman for kicking a kitten. One of the larger boys stated that he had kindly asked a man not to whip his horse, which had slipped on the stones, and he had stopped. The new library books and papers were given out. Next meeting Saturday, same time and place.

EIGHT MEN SHOT.

Three Are Dead and Five Have Mortal Wounds.

RESULT OF A FAMILY FEUD IN SOUTHERN TENNESSEE.

Dr. Graves Will Be Charged With the Poisoning of Mrs. Barnaby When He Arrives at Denver—Closely Shadowed by a Detective—Two Men Killed—Other Crimes.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 11.—Details of a murderous affray which occurred on Wold Creek, near the North Carolina line, have been received here. Jonathan Bell, an old, well-to-do man, lost his wife by death six weeks ago. After two weeks he married a girl of 17 years, greatly to the disgust of his family. As time passed they grew more dissatisfied and they went in a body to the old man's house, and, taking the young wife out, stripped her and gave her one hundred lashes. On the following day on complaint of Elder Bell and one John Ballew the White Cappers were arrested but released on bonds. Then they went to Ballew's house to punish him for interfering. Ballew and his family resisted and in the battle which followed John Bell was killed, "Big" and "Wild Bill" Bell, Hiram Morten, Jack Johnson and three others were fatally shot. Johnson and "Big Bill" have since died and it is said others are dying. There have been no arrests and both sides are armed for more warfare.

GRAVES IS THE MAN.

HE WILL BE JAILED AT DENVER AS THE POISONER OF MRS. BARNABY.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 11.—There is no longer any mystery about the identity of the person who sent the bottle of whisky to Denver out of which the late Mrs. Josephine A. Barnaby drank the draught which is thought to have caused her death. When Dr. Graves returned from the West, after the death of Mrs. Barnaby, he was beset by reporters and asked all kinds of questions. In reply to inquiries whether he knew anything of the mailing of the bottle of poison he declared solemnly and emphatically that he knew nothing about it. He had not heard of the poison until he reached Denver, he said, and was shocked to learn that his friend and benefactress had been put to death. He was then asked if he was present at the autopsy, and declared that he was and that he had done all that he could in the matter for the family and for the local physicians. He was particular to impress upon the minds of the newspaper men that he did not know that Mrs. Barnaby was dead until he reached Denver, although he had been informed by wire that she was in a dangerous condition. At the same time he made a remark that Mrs. Barnaby was a woman of many and vile lovers.

The next morning he was pulled out of bed by two newspaper men, who put him through a course of questions, and the result was the assertion on his part that he had received the information before he left Providence that Mrs. Barnaby was dead and that he had decided that it was a duty he owed to his old friend to go to Denver and look out for her body and her diamonds, which were worth thousands of dollars. He was forced to admit that on the way to Denver he had needlessly stopped over at Sterling and Cedar Rapids, Ill., and that he did this knowing that the family was anxiously looking for him. He went further to say that Mrs. Barnaby was not a good woman, and that she had been blackmailed by some of her lovers and friends. There was nothing new gleaned until it was ascertained that the stamps which were used on the fatal package were of an old issue, that the only office in the New England States where they had been sold was Providence, and that by accident that variety of stamp had been sent there from the Post-office Department. Then it was learned that Dr. Graves had been in the habit of mailing packages of medicine here, and he had bought freely of all kinds of stamps.

In the meantime the Pinkerton agency had been called into service, and there was begun a most searching investigation. Detective O. A. Hanscom came here from Boston and went to work upon the doctor. The Worralls were thrown out of the game and the doctor was made the objective point. He was called to the Barnaby residence and was introduced to Hanscom as a friend of the family, while Hanscom was introduced as Charles Conrad, a brother of the son-in-law of the murdered woman. There were many conferences at which the soi-disant Conrad was a quiet listener, and finally he put the question to the doctor as to whether or not he sent a bottle of pure whisky to Mrs. Barnaby which some person in Denver had doctored. Dr. Graves looked at the supposed brother-in-law a few minutes and did not answer. Finally he said that he would talk on that subject on the following night, which was Wednesday. On that evening he came to the house and to the delight of the family and the amazement of the detective fell into the trap that had been set for him. He said that he sent a bottle of pure whisky to Mrs. Barnaby and that he wrote the label which said that the whisky was from her friends in the woods. Then it was impressed upon him that the best thing that he could do was to go to Denver and clear himself of suspicion, and he started Friday night. He believed he was unaccompanied, but Detective Hanscom so started him off that Hanscom himself will reach Denver at the same time, and the doctor will not be without a close companion in the person of a Pinkerton man until he lands in Denver, where he will undoubtedly be lodged in jail. The doctor will have several assertions to explain, and one of the first will be that wherein he said as soon as he reached here that he suspected the Bennetts of Blue Mountain Village of sending the package. His admission that he sent the package himself will make an explanation difficult and he fails to say why, in writing the label "From your friend in the woods," he did not specify that he was the friend.

Other things wherein Dr. Graves has entangled himself include the fact that he was not at the autopsy. As a matter of fact he has never seen Mrs. Barnaby's body and he has never expressed a desire to the family to look upon it.

HELD UP A TRAIN.

SIX MASKED ROBBERS GO THROUGH THE EXPRESS ON THE SANTA FE.

GUTHRIE, I. T., May 11.—Early Sunday morning six masked robbers boarded the Kansas City mail and express at Wharton, detached the engine, baggage and express car, ran it two miles distant, where the train was stopped and an entrance forced into the express car. At the time the highwaymen boarded the train the messenger happened to be looking out of the door and immediately realized that something unusual was going on. Quickly closing the door, he proceeded to hide the money and valuables in various places, putting a portion of it into the stove and more among the boxes. When the robbers made their appearance at the door he showed a slight inclination to resist, but finally opened the door for them, and later the safe was opened, but the contents were found to be nothing but worthless paper.

The robbers were furious and threatened to take their revenge out upon the messenger, their wrath being somewhat assuaged, however, by finding a $500 package hidden away among the boxes. During the excitement of the hasty search the stove was overlooked. It seems that the $500 was all the robbers obtained, this coinciding with the report made to the headquarters of the express company at Topeka, Kan.

This robbery was executed with a boldness only conceivable to professionals of the most dangerous character, and the express officials fully realize the class of men with whom they will have to deal. A large extra force of deputy United States Marshals have been sworn in at Topeka, and pursuit will be immediately undertaken. There is little doubt but that the job is the work of the notorious Dalton boys, who have been outlaw terrors on the strip for years. The posse is making a direct run for Turkey Creek, I. T., where these men usually hide, and there is little doubt but that a desperate fight or capture will result in the immediate future. The Dalton boys have bad reputations and will hardly surrender upon a mere request.

BOTH SHOT DEAD.

FATAL RESULT OF A QUARREL ABOUT A BOUNDARY LINE.

NEWPORT, Tenn., May 11.—One acre of land was the cause of the death of two men yesterday morning. Berry Holt and Wm. Holdway had trouble over a tract of land about two years ago, and on Saturday a lawsuit was decided in favor of Holdway. Yesterday Wm. Holdway, Jr., and Pleasant Holt were moving a fence in accordance to the decision when Rufus Holt, son of Berry Holt, shot them both down with a pistol. Holdway died instantly and Pleasant Holt four hours later. The murderer fled to the mountains and has not been captured.

AN ALABAMA DESPERADO DEAD.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 11.—An Alabama desperado, second only to Rube Burroughs, was killed yesterday by a detective and his posse. The desperado's name was John Penton. He was under a twenty-year sentence for murder and was shot while resisting arrest. John Penton came into prominence about seven years ago by leading a gang of moonshiners who were fighting the revenue men. In defiance of all law Penton was elected Sheriff of Corington County, and while in office killed John Crumley. He was tried and convicted. When the sentence was passed he turned and walked out of court without being arrested. A reward of $1,500 was put upon his head. For several years he has been shielded and harbored by his friends in Alabama and Florida.

CLASSEN WILL GET BAIL.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Peter J. Claasen, the New York City bank president, sentenced to six years in the Erie Penitentiary to-day denied the motion of the defendant for leave to file a petition for a writ of mandamus, and also the motion of the United States to set aside the supersedeas and stay of proceedings. The result of this ruling to-day will be to release Mr. Claasen on bail and bring his case th the Supreme Court for final adjudication at the next term.

TWO BULLETS IN HIS HEART.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 11.—Mrs. Alfred Towsley called at the police station at Austin, a suburb of Chicago, and asked to see her husband, who was locked up on a charge of disorderly conduct. As soon as she met him she drew a revolver and fired two shots. Towsley dropped dead with both the bullets in his heart. The cause of the shooting was Towsley's attempt to assault his 18-year-old stepdaughter.

CAR THIEF ARRESTED.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 11.—John Mehan, the leader of a gang of train thieves, was arrested here yesterday. Mehan operated on the Norfolk & Western Railway in Virginia, where he was yardmaster. He and his gang robbed cars and resealed them with seals entrusted to Mehan. The gang was arrested, but Mehan escaped. Detective Baldwin of the railroad company followed him through seven States, a distance of 5,000, miles and finally caught him.

WHISKY AND REVOLVERS.

POTTS CAMP, Miss., May 11.—John Murray, a young tough, and his companion, O. H. Harden, came up from Hickory Flats to Potts Camp for the purpose of raising a row. They had revolvers and whisky. After they had done a great deal of shooting and very little damage they met the officers. A fight followed and both were shot. Harden may die, but Murray is not seriously hurt.

A MINER ASSASSINATED.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 11.—F. M. Wilson, an old miner and prospector, well and favorably known throughout the Southwest, was most foully assassinated at Las Placitas, twelve miles northeast of this city, last evening. Three bullets were fired into his body by an unknown assassin. The officers have a clue, but are unwilling to have the same made public.

BEGAN EARLY IN LIFE.

MILAN, Tenn., May 11.—A 12-year-old boy hailing from Kansas stole a mule and other valuables from Mr. John Fly, who lives near here, and was captured yesterday by a posse at Medina, Tenn., with the stolen property in his possession. He was taken to jail at Jackson.

A LYNCHING LOOKED FOR.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 11.—Mary Stewart of Chartiers Borough met an awful death at the hands of her husband yesterday. The man came home beastly drunk and went to his room. His wife came to the door and Stewart threw a lighted lamp at her. The lamp exploded and covered the woman with oil and fire. Before assistance came the woman was so burned that she lived only a few hours. Stewart may be lynched.

CONVICTED OF FORGERY.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 11.—In the Circuit Court of Mississippi County David Ferguson, ex-County Clerk and a prominent citizen of Chittenden County, was this morning convicted of forgery and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. Ferguson issued and sold warrants amounting to thousands of dollars.

TO DIE BY ELECTRICITY.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 11.—The Supreme Court of the United States to-day affirmed the order of the New York Circuit Court denying writs of habeas corpus in the cases of the prisoners Woods and Jugiro, now in Sing Sing prison under sentence of death by electrocution.

F. M. Wilson, a miner, was found dead at his home near Barnahills, N. M., with three bullets in his body. He had antagonized the Mexicans and it is believed that they killed him.

The body of Henry Aulfus, who was dismissed from the Soldiers' Home on Saturday night, was found in a creek near Milwaukee, Wis., yesterday, with several wounds in the head.

Mrs. A. B. Cohen returned to her home in Hannibal last evening after a pleasant visit to her sister, Miss Owing, and Mrs. Buckner, 4139 Finney avenue.

EIGHT WERE KILLED

And Twenty-five Injured by an Explosion on a Steamer.

THREE LIVES LOST IN A RAILWAY DISASTER IN MICHIGAN.

Thirteen People Wounded—Colliding Trains Cause the Calamity—The Names of the Victims—An Engine Hurled Into the River—The Day's Record of Casualties.

LONDON, May 11.—A terrific explosion occurred to-day in the forehold of the British steamer Tancarville, Capt. Carter, which was undergoing repairs in the dry-dock at Newport. Several men who were at work on the steamer were killed and a number were injured. The steamer was badly damaged by the explosion. The Tancarville is a tank steamer engaged in carrying oil in bulk from American ports and her last voyage was from Philadelphia for Havre. After reaching the latter port and discharging she proceeded to Newport, where she was to load for Baltimore. There is no doubt that the explosion was caused by the gas that prevails to a greater or less extent in the holds of all carrying ships.

The force of the explosion was so great that the fore-deck was torn from its fastenings and blown off. As the steamer was out of water there was no pressure in the hull to counterbalance the tremendous outward strain exerted by the explosion, and it is reported that some of the plates on the bottom of the Tancarville were blown from their bolts. The woodwork of the forward portion of the steamer caught fire, but the flames were soon extinguished.

It has been definitely learned that five men were killed and thirteen injured.

A later dispatch from Newport says that the loss of life caused by the explosion on the steamer Tancarville is larger than the first report stated. The dispatch says that eight of the persons employed about the steamer were killed and twenty-five others were injured. The repairs which were being made to the steamer were quite extensive and 100 men and boys were employed in and around the vessel when the explosion occurred. The flying pieces of timber and iron from the steamer were blown with terrific force through the air, and some were hurled against the workshops, which were fifty yards from the dry dock in which the Tancarville was lying, causing much damage to them. A number of workmen employed in the shops were struck by pieces of the flying debris and some of them were quite severely injured.

TRAINS COLLIDE.

THREE MEN KILLED AND THIRTEEN WOUNDED—NAMES OF THE VICTIMS.

DETROIT, Mich., May 11.—A special to the News from Shepherd, Mich., says: At 10 o'clock last night an extra freight from the north approaching the yards here, ran into fourteen loaded log cars, wrecking engine No. 20 and caboose. The men on this train jumped and escaped injury. The force of the collision started thirteen log cars down the grade, through the Shepherd yards, to a mile south of Shepherd where the rest of the train was being loaded with logs. In the collision which followed three men were killed and thirteen injured. Following is the list of killed and injured:

Killed—Z. Bigelow, Clarke Stubble, Sherwood Clark. All of Shepherd.

Injured—Charles Walling, badly bruised and head smashed; Jay Struble, slightly bruised; John Kennedy, bruised slightly; Amos Pickett, breast injured; O. B. Farrell, shoulder badly smashed and dangerous scalp wounds; C. Huntington, back injured; Frank Hartford, spine injured; August Rider, head and leg badly injured; George Starr, shoulder bruised; Lew Cole, collar-bone broken; James Wilson, severely bruised. All these also live in Shepherd.

Conductor Anway of Owosso was slightly injured and Brakeman Squires of Owosso had his breast and head injured. The injured were quartered at farm-houses, except a few who who were able to be moved to their homes.

HURLED INTO THE RIVER.

DUBUQUE, Io., May 11.—A freight train on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Road was derailed and the engine and six cars were hurled into the river, six miles from this city yesterday. James Richmond, the engineer, was carried down with his engine and his body lies beneath it. Fireman Newell and the brakeman jumped and, though badly injured, will recover.

AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOLS.

Celebration of the Sixty-Seventh Anniversary of the Union.

NEWARK, N. J., May 11.—The sixty-seventh anniversary of the American Sunday-school Union was celebrated in the First Presbyterian Church, East Orange, last evening. The Rev. Drs. J. M. Crowell of Philadelphia and W. P. Paxson of Missouri, Superintendent of the Southwestern Missionary Department, made addresses.

The Rev. Dr. Crowell, Secretary of Missions, gave the following summary of the work accomplished during the year ended March 1, 1891: Sunday-schools organized, 1,820, with 7,665 teachers and 68,210 scholars; 2,908 other schools were aided with 13,201 teachers and 125,924 scholars; 50,906 schools previously reported were aided, containing 242,998 teachers and scholars—making a total of 452,930 teachers and scholars. Missionaries distributed 7,447 Bibles and 11,214 testaments, made 49,640 visits to families and delivered 14,008 addresses. Between 4,000 and 5,000 persons professed conversion at evangelistic services, and at least 130 churches have been developed from Sunday-schools established by missionaries.

A PRIEST'S STRONG LANGUAGE.

BURLINGTON, N. J., May 11.—There was a scene in St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church in this city yesterday. It was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of the Rev. Father Tracey, the pastor of the church. The priest has not been on good terms with some members of his flock for many months, and in the course of his anniversary address became highly excited. "I will grind to the dust," he shouted, "the rotten-hearted devils of the congregation and hold up their wretched characters to the light of day. While I am not as great a man as most I have just as much authority over my people."

The outburst was a surprise to many in the audience. As the priest continued men and women arose in indignation and left the church. The sermon is the talk of the town.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION ADJOURNS.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 11.—The Twenty-ninth International Convention of the Y. M. C. A. adjourned sine die last night.

Captured a Highwayman.

Richard Ricks held up Lee Powell, a hackman, at Twenty-third and Morgan Sunday morning and robbed him of a gold watch and chain. Powell, who lives at 1246 Elliott avenue, followed the robber calling, "Watch!" "Stop thief!" etc., until the attention of Officers McDonnell and Williams were attracted and the highwayman arrested. Powell recovered his property.

TEA STORE FAILURE.

ATTACHMENT SUITS AGAINST THE UNION PACIFIC TEA CO.

Obey Owen and His Bondsmen in Court—Litigation Between Two Big Cheltenham Industries—Mrs. Fannie Thompson's Damage Suit.

Several attachment suits were filed yesterday, Sunday, and several more this morning against the St. Louis branch houses of the Union Pacific Tea Co. of New York City, whose failure was announced last Saturday. The business is conducted by McBride Bros. & Co., composed of Robt. P., Leslie, David and William C. McBride, and their St. Louis stores are at 829 North Sixth street, 1215 South Broadway and 1227 North Thirteenth street. Schotten & Co. have filed an attachment suit against them for $1,109; the Nash-Smith Tea & Coffee Co., one for $1,664.86; James H. Forbes, one for $1,109.94; and C. F. Blanke & Co., one for $878.46. Amonng the other local creditors are the Ostermann Spice Co., H. Meyer & Co., E. G. Scudder & Bro. and J. J. Brookmire. The local liabilities are said to amount to about $10,000 and the total liabilities of the New York concern to $500,000. The Union Pacific Tea Co. has ninety-five different retail stores, located in almost as many cities, and did a business of about $1,500,000 annually. The house was established in 1875. Wm. J. Harvey, the St. Louis manager, thinks that the liabilities will all be paid and business resumed.

A duplicate of the assignment papers of Robert P. McBride & Co., filed in New York City last week, was filed with the St. Louis Recorder of Deeds this morning. The assignment is made to George H. Macy of New York. No statement as to assets or liabilities is given.

Obey Owen and His Bondsmen.

The suit of the Third National Bank of this city against Obediah Owen, the ex-cashier of the bank, and his bondsmen, Edwin Harrison, W. H. Block, Chas. Green and Chas. P. Chouteau, for $30,000, the amount of Obey's bond, was called to-day for trial in Judge Klein's court, but was laid over until next Thursday. It is to be tried by a special jury. The bank secured judgment for the full amount at the first trial a couple of years ago, but the Supreme Court reversed the decision. The discovery of Obey Owen's shortage, amounting to over $100,000, caused a big local sensation at the time, some eight or nine years ago. Obey was tried and convicted in the United States District Court, and was given a term in the Chester (Ill.) Penitentiary, but was pardoned out in two or three years, or when he had served out about half his term.

Cheltenham's Big Suit.

The suit of the Evens & Howard Fire Brick Co. against the St. Louis Smelting & Refining Co. is being heard by Judge Klein to-day. The plaintiff complains that the fumes and vapor from the defendant's smokestack at Cheltenham settle in fine flakes in large quantities on and materially damage plaintiff's clay pipe stacked in the latter's yards near by and asks the court to restrain the smelting company from thus damaging its clay pipe by using suitable machinery or otherwise. Plaintiff also wants $30,000 for damages already sustained. The clay-pipe plant is valued in the petition at $300,000 and the annual output at $200,000.

Big Value.

Assertions are easily made, but we think the most captious would have to admit that when the Mermod & Jaccard Jewelry Co., Broadway and Locust, assert this regarding the pretty tea service they offer in their advertisement to-day for $16.50, that the statement is, if anything, too modest, for the value they offer is great.

STRIKERS SHOT DOWN.

Two Men Killed and Sixteen Others Wounded at Denver.

DENVER, Colo., May 11.—A terrible fight took place this forenoon between a party of striking brickmakers and a gang of colored men who had been engaged by F. N. Davis, the proprietor of the brick yard to take their place. Davis, his son and seven negroes, all heavily armed, were going to work when they were intercepted by a band of strikers and ordered back. Davis warned the strikers to get out of the way. The latter refused and Davis and his men opened fire. Two of the strikers are mortally wounded and sixteen others are more or less hurt. The Davis party were all arrested. Davis says the strikers had guns, but the latter deny this.

Received Three Bullets.

MOUNT VERNON, Ky., May 11.—Near Wildie, this county, yesterday afternoon, George Hayes shot his cousin, Thomas Hayes, three times, from which the latter died this morning. The parties had been at outs over some trouble about corn. They met yesterday, and Tom made a demonstration as if to draw a weapon. A shot was heard and Tom fell to the ground. He arose and advanced upon George, saying: "You haven't killed me yet." Another shot was heard and Tom went down again, and again he arose with the remark, "you have not got me yet." He still advanced, running George through the house, when the latter fired a parting shot as he ran. This shot also took effect. Two bullets had pierced his bowels, and one had entered his chest. George Hayes surrendered to-day. The dead man leaves a widow and three children.

Personal Culture.

Arrangements have been made for a lecture by Mr. Edmund Russell on the subject of "Personal Culture," to be given for the benefit of the Froebel Society.

Mr. Russell has a widespread reputation as a lecturer on art. For three years Mr. and Mrs. Russell traveled abroad and taught, lectured and studied. In England the lectures were a most decided success and were attended largely by people of rank and prominence.

The lecture here will be given at the Stoddard Kindergarten on Lucas avenue between Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth streets, on Tuesday, May 12. An admission of 50 cents will be charged as the funds are being raised for the Froebel Society.

The subject of personal culture is sub-divided by Mr. Russell as follows: the teachings of Delsarte, a study of the body in expression, command of the body, nervousness, repose, poise of the figure, breathing, walking, bowing, foot coverings, the modern gymnasium and society manners, the "tailor-made" girl.

From these sub-divisions the range of Mr. Russell's lecture can be gathered.

TYLER PLACE AUCTION.

Gathering of Purchasers Looking for Realty in Southwest St. Louis.

Great interest was manifested to-day in the sale of vacant Tyler place lots under the direction of A. K. Florida & Co., Charles H. Gleason & Co. and Samuel T. Rathell. Since the property was originally sold in parcels a year ago extensive improvements have been made along Castleman avenue, where several very fine residences are now in course of construction upon building sites having public improvements similar to those in the highly esteemed Compton Hill tract, where some sales have been made at considerably over $100 a foot. Such a splendid start at the northern section of Tyler place has enhanced public appreciation of the southern portion of the tract, where as yet no public improvements have been made; but some building has been commenced in that part of it, near Grand avenue, also.

The crowd to attend to-day's auction was a little slow in arriving upon the ground. A good many persons came in vehicles, those arriving by the cable line being provided with vans to haul them around after the auctioneer. Last night's heavy rain made walking over the property disagreeable, but when the sale opened shortly after 11 o'clock it was soon made evident that Tyler place property had advanced considerably in public estimation since it was first sold under the hammer less than a year ago. When Mr. Rathell first called for bids there were not many people upon the field, but their spirited competition in making offers indicated plainly that they were there for business. Every lot that was put up during the first hour and a half of the sale sold readily at good advances over the prices paid for the same ground last summer when nearly every purchase included several hundred feet and from that to an entire block. Purchases of that character indicated that the buyers bought on speculation. On the other hand, to-day's buyers took small parcels, the inference being that the property bought is to be improved for their own use. After 12 o'clock the attendance grew larger as the sale of lots progressed westward on Cabanne, Vandeventer and Lawrence avenues.

Following is a list of the sales up to 1 o'clock, when the auction may be said to have but fairly started:

Flad avenue—North side, between Grand and Cabanne, lot No. 6, being 62x125 feet, to O. Voelker, $33 a foot; lot No. 8, Mrs. M. Fritzler, $32; lots 9 and 10, J. G. Zimmerman at $30.75 a foot; lot No. 11 at $30.25, to R. Wuensche, lots 12, 13, 14 and 15 at $28 to Joseph Duffy.

Flad avenue—North side, between Cabanne and Vandeventer, lots Nos. 27 and 28, at the northwest corner, at $30.50 to W. J. Jones; lots 25 and 26 at $30 to H. Andreas.

Flad avenue—South side, between Vandeventer and Cabanne, lot No. 10 at $22.75 to Joseph A. Duffy.

Flad avenue—North side, between Vandeventer and Lawrence, lot 26 at $20 to J. Flanigan; lot No. 25 to T. A. Gordon at $18.75 a foot; lots 22 to 24, being 150 feet front, at $19.50, to Dennis Clifford.

Flora avenue—South side, 200 feet west of Grand, 112x125 feet, O. Voelker at $34.50; lot 23, between Grand and Cabanne, 50x125 feet at $35 to E. D. Ray; lot No. 22, 50 feet at $30 to O. Voelker; lots 16 to 21, inclusive, 300 feet, at $27.50 to H. Neally.

Grand avenue—Southwest corner of Flora, 156x200 feet to W. H. Uhri, $70 foot.

A QUICK PROFIT OF $350.

The Miles Sells residence, including 126x150 feet of ground, situate on the east side of Taylor avenue, between Ashland and Elm Bank avenues, which was purchased at the Magnolia Terrace auction Saturday afternoon for $4,150 by H. C. Hall, has been sold for that gentleman by the Rathell Real Estate Auction Co. for $4,500, to Rev. Mr. Hunter of St. Charles, Mo.

DR. BRIGGS' HERESY.

The New York Presbytery Hears the Investigating Committee's Report.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The Presbytery met in the Old Scotch Church on Fourteenth street this afternoon to hear the report of the Investigating Committee which was appointed to consider the inaugural address of Dr. Charles Augustus Briggs, which has created so much controversy, to determine whether he should be presented for heresy. The committee was appointed by Moderator George S. Shearer, Secretary of the American Tract Society, and was composed of Geo. F. Birch of the Bethany Presbyterian Church; Prof. John A. Stevenson of New York University; Dr. J. J. Lumke of Christ Church, who opposes Dr. Briggs' views; Dr. Jesse G. Forbes of Adams Memorial Presbyterian Church, Dr. Henry J. Vandyck of Brick Presbyterian Church, Dr. James H. McIlvaine of Church of the Covenant and Elder Walter Edwards, a business man, the four latter inclining towards Dr. Briggs' views. Dr. Vandyck refused to serve on the ground that there was nothing to investigate. The vacancy was offered to several others, but all of them declined and the committee has worked with six members.

It now stands four to two in favor of presenting Dr. Briggs for heresy, but the minority made a report affirming that there is nothing in Dr. Briggs' address which is inconsistent with the Westminster Confession.

The three principal points in Dr. Briggs' address to which the orthodox members of the Presbytery object have been printed for distribution at the Presbytery meeting today. They are summarized as follows:

1. The co-ordination of the Reason, the Bible and the Church as the three fountains of divine authority.

2. The claim that the text of the Bible contains errors.

3. The theory of progressive sanctification and race redemption.

The division in the Presbytery was so nearly equal that a decision may not be reached before the hour of adjournment, and in that event the question will be postponed until the June meeting.

ANCIENT ORDER OF FORESTERS.

The Grand Courts of Missouri and Kansas in Session Here.

The Grand Court of the Ancient Order of Foresters of the States of Missouri and Kansas convened in annual session at Central Turner Hall this morning, there being twenty-one delegates and eighteen alternates in attendence. The following named grand officers were in attendance and at their respective places of duty: E. L. Graubner, H. C. R.; C. Huber, H. S. C. R.; Val Schnell, H. T.; C. B. Menaugh, H. S.; J. H. Dyerson, H. S. W.; Ed Kleinhenn, H. J. W.; C. E. Porter, H. S. B.; J. L. Uttley, H. J. B.

The forenoon was spent in the transaction of routine business, listening to the reports of the Committee on Credentials and other minor matters. This afternoon Mayor Noonan has promised to address the delegates, and this evening they will be given a complimentary excursion on the river by the St. Louis courts, the course being down the river and the boat the Grand Republic will be used. A large number of St. Louis Foresters, accompanied by their families, will go with the excursionists.

The convention assembled at 1:30 this afternoon and proceeded to reports, the most important of which is the recommendations of the Grand Court officers, among which is to make courts amenable for failure to make proper monthly returns, and that an organizer be sent over Missouri and Kansas as soon as the funds at the command of the Grand courts will justify such action.

The business will probably be completed to-morrow.

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE DIRECTORS.

The Regular Monthly Meeting and the Subjects Considered.

This afternoon a meeting of the Board of Directors was held in the Directors' room of the Merchants' exchange. A number of transfers of memberships were passed upon, and a large amount of routine business done. A communication was received from the chairman of the traffic association asking for the amount of the subscription to be made by the Merchants' Exchange to the Traffic Association fund. The committee has decided that memberships of commercial and industrial bodies shall range from $400 to $2,000 per annum; that firm or individual memberships shall be divided into four classes, the first to pay $200 a year, the second $100, the third $50, and the fourth $25. The terms of payment to be quarterly, in advance, beginning May 1, 1891, and the contract for membership to be so drawn that if a less sum than the aggregate of memberships is required to pay the expenses of the commission, only such pro rata sum as is necessary shall be paid.

PRIVATE WIRES ON 'CHANGE.

The Western Union Will Probably Allow Their Introduction.

Last night Col. R. C. Clowry, General Superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Co., arrived in the city for the purpose of superintending the removal of the Western Union from its old to its new office. This morning he visited the Merchants' Exchange, and was received by President Bernheimer. Mr. Bernheimer showed him the inconveniences arising from the refusal of the Western Union to allow private wires on the floor. Col. Clowry stated that he perceived how inconvenient the present arrangements were, and said that in his opinion within forty-eight hours a favorable answer to the request would be received.

EMBARRASSED FIRMS.

The Beldin Motor Co. of Chicago Makes an Assignment.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 11.—The Beldin Motor & Manufacturing Co. made an assignment this morning. The liabilities are about $175,000, of which $170,000 is for borrowed money. The assets are not scheduled, but are thought not to exceed the liabilities.

The suspension was caused by two disastrous fires that ruined the company's stock and shops at Hermoss, and by the failure of capitalists to fulfill their promises of financial support. Chas. H. Bunker, Secretary and Treasurer of the company, is the assignee.

She Stole Her Gem.

At an early hour this morning Detectives Dotzman and Fagan of headquarters were called to the house of Nana Marshal, 1312 Pine street, on complaint of Miss Marshal, who had lost a diamond ring valued at $300. The gem was found on the person of Maude Howard, who was placed under arrest. Later in the day a warrant was sworn out charging the prisoner with grand larceny.

ELGIN, Ill., May 11.—The production of butter is still short of the demand; this taken in connection with the very high price of all dairy feed causes sellers to be firm in their demand for advanced prices at this time. Indications are that the market will close at 27@28c.

SIX TIMES A WIDOW.

A Woman Whose Many Husbands Have All Been Veterans of the War.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 11.—Mrs. Mary Conover of this city buried her sixth husband last week. Although only 43 years old she has been a widow six times, and the singular part of it is that she had lived happily with every husband and nursed him tenderly through his last sickness. Another singular feature of her matrimonial experience was that her husbands were all in the Union army in the last war, all were cripples when she married them and all were pensioners of the Government except No. 1, who died before the first pension act went into effect, and Mrs. Conover received a pension herself by reason of his death. No. 1 was John Fellows, who returned home from the war with only one leg in 1863, when Miss Hotchkiss was but 15 years old. They were married and the husband died a couple of years after of his old wound. Directly after the close of the war the young widow married Jerry Shafer, another soldier, who had just received a pension, and he survived the marriage only a year. No. 3 was Hezekiah Farnham, another pensioner and a one-legged man, who made good wages as a bricklayer until typhoid fever carried him off in 1874. Farnham left her three little children, but the new pension obtained at his death enabled her to make ends meet until No. 4 arrived in the person of Jack McCandless, an old soldier, who was drawing a large pension on account of the loss of an arm and a leg in the war. He was a victim of rheumatism contracted from exposure in the Southern swamps, and he died after his wife had tenderly nursed him for nearly a year. No. 5 was Joe Keleher, who had lost one leg and four fingers, two from each hand. He also had a good pension and was elected Supervisor of his township in Sullivan County, but he died of consumption in 1879, a year after the marriage. She had now lost five husbands in sixteen years, and decided this time to remain a widow. This resolution she firmly kept for nine years, or until 1888, when she married John Conover, who was a widower with two children. The children on both sides objected to the marriage and made considerable trouble afterwards, but still Mr. and Mrs. Conover got along very well together. He had lost an eye at Gettysburg, but still had all of his limbs, and he worked as a lumberman in the timber until a couple of months ago, when he became sick, and last Thursday he was buried.

Confirmation at St. Michael's.

The rite of confirmation was administered yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at St. Michael's Church, Eleventh and Clinton streets, by the venerable Archbishop Kenrick, who was assisted by Fathers Andrew Eustace and James Bourke. There was a class of 150 that received the sacrament, and of the number there were ten converts, five coming from parishes outside of St. Michael's. The act of consecration was excellently read by little Miss Annie Shea.

The altar was tastefully and artistically decorated by the Misses Mamie Farrell, Lucy Henderhan and Mattie Cooney. Above the main altar "Gloria in Excelsis Deo" flashed in brilliant gas jets. The choir rendered an excellent programme and was in charge of Prof. Wm. Paul.

Money Orders at the Annex.

Money order blanks arrived from Washington, D.C., this morning for the Post-office annex at Third and Olive streets and the money order department was opened to-day. Only domestic orders and postal notes will be issued at the annex, as international offices are opened only at certain periods of the year. The department may decide to open this branch for international business about July 1, until which time international money orders and postal notes may be obtained as usual at the main office. The annex has already proven a great convenience to the business men, and the receipts at the stamp windows of the main office have fallen off very perceptibly during the past few days.

By Black, J.—Stratton, appelant, vs. Barchert; reversed and remanded.

TAXING THE PULLMAN CAR CO.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 11.—The United States Supreme Court to-day affirmed the judgment of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in the case of the Pullman Palace Car company against the State, involving the validity and constitutionality of the State law, taxing the company on a basis proportionate to the total number of miles of railroad within the State over which the company cars ran compared with the total number of miles of railroad in the United States over which the cars ran. The court, in an opinion by Justice Gray, holds that the law is valid and constitutional and not in violation of the interstate commerce law of the Federal constitution. The Court holds that the law is not a regulation of commerce but an equitable method of taxing the property of the company within the state. It holds that it is a tax not on business, but on property which may be found within the State. The court also decided a case from Massachusetts involving practically the same questions applied to the lines of the Western Union Telegraph Co. in Massachusetts in the same way.

The Whitsett Divorce Case.

The arguments in the Whitsett divorce case will probably be made next Saturday, although the time has not been positively fixed yet. There is a Miss Bella Redmen, but she was not a witness on either side.

ATTRACTIONS OF THE WEEK

At the Local Theaters—The Juch Engagement—Choral-Symphony Concert.

The closing week of the regular theatrical season at the Olympic Theater opened last evening with the Liliputians in a new play entitled "The Little Baroness." There was a large audience present, who gave enthusiastic approval to the clever work of the midgets. This is the farewell engagement of the little actors.

A new sensational play adapted from the French and entitled "The Bottom of the Sea" was made known for the first time here at Pope's last evening. It is given a spectacular production and will run for the week.

The opening performance of the Juch Opera Co. in Wagner's romantic opera, "Tannhauser," will present the strength of the organization, with Emma Juch as Elizabeth, Charles Hedmondt as Tannhauser, Franz Vetta as Herman, Georgine Von Januschowsky as Venus, Otto Rattigens as Wolfram, and Payne Clarke, Leo Stormont, Wm. Stephens, E. N. Knight and Carlotta Mocenda in the other roles. The sales of seats point to a brilliant audience.

Charles Santley, the famous English barytone, has made his greatest successes in the part of Elijah in Mendelssohn's oratorio. In the Choral-Symphony concert to-morrow evening he will sing the famous prayer of the prophet and take part in the magnificent finale of the first part, together with Miss Kalkmann, soprano, the chorus of the society and the Symphony orchestra.

The congregation and Sunday-school children of Pickers' Evangelical Church, Thirteenth and Tyler streets, will have a picnic and reunion to-day week at the Lindell Park.

BLAINE A SICK MAN.

Confined to His Bed at His Daughter's Home in New York.

THE DOCTORS SAY HE MUST HAVE QUIET AND REST.

Relatives Deny That the Secretary Is Dangerously Ill, But Admit That He Is Suffering From Overwork—The Physicians' Bulletin—What Mrs. Blaine Says—Political.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The Herald this morning prints the following in a second edition: Secretary of State James G. Blaine, who came to New York on Tuesday of last week to see his daughter Harriet start for Europe on the steamship Teutonic on Wednesday, and also to attend the musical festival at the opening of the Carnegie Music Hall, is still in the city, stopping at the residence of his son-in-law, Walter Damrosch, No. 72 West Seventieth street. When he came to the city Mr. Blaine expected to remain only a day or two. His protracted stay, I was told yesterday by a friend of Mr. Damrosch, was due to an attack of sickness which Mr. Damrosch's friend understood was of a rather serious nature. A reporter called at Mr. Damrosch's residence late last night. The family had retired and the house was dark, but in answer to repeated rings at the door bell, Mr. Damrosch came to the door himself in his night robe.

In response to an inquiry whether Secretary Blaine was still in the city, and stopping there, Mr. Damrosch said that Mr. Blaine was there and in bed.

"Is there any truth in a report which has reached the Herald that the Secretary is seriously ill?"

"No, Mr. Blaine is not seriously ill."

"Has he been ill at all since he arrived in the city?"

"Well, yes," answered Mr. Damrosch. "Mr. Blaine was taken with an acute attack of indigestion last Friday, which necessitated his remaining in the city longer than he expected to do."

"Will his indisposition cause him to remain here more than a day or two longer?"

"That I cannot say," replied Mr. Damrosch. "He will remain until he has fully recovered, but he is not at all seriously ill."

Drs. Janeway and Dennis, it is learned, are in attendance on Mr. Blaine. They were with him for some time yesterday. They believe that the recent overwork on the part of the Secretary is mainly attributable for his present indisposition. The Secretary, the doctors say, needs rest. The following bulletin was issued last night:

Drs. Janeway and Dennis say that Mr. Blaine is prostrated by overwork and that he has had an acute attack of indigestion, accompanied by vertigo, and that they have insisted on absolute quiet and rest

Dr. Dennis stated to a reporter last night, when asked if there was any cause for apprehension, that it was impossible to say as yet. Until he visited the patient to-day he could say nothing definite. Mr. Blaine had been confined to his bed since he was attacked and has only been able to leave it a few hours at a time.

Mrs. Blaine was seen by a reporter and in an interview said: "Mr. Blaine is still confined to his bed, but he is resting quietly and there is no danger whatever, and, in fact, he is almost well. His attending physician advised Mr. Blaine to rest and not to return to Washington to-day. The Secretary would return to the capital if I would permit it, but in view of the physician's advice I would not let him go under any circumstances. Since the President's absence from Washington Mr. Blaine has been working very hard, and the fact is that he was called upon to look after all the affairs of the Department of State. I attribute the present attack to Mr. Blaine having hurried over to this city to see his daughter off for Europe, and thus getting out of his regular daily routine."

Mrs. Blaine denied that the Secretary had had another attack of vertigo. She said he has had no fainting spells and his mind is perfectly clear. The attending physician will not call again to-day unless sent for.

Mrs. Damrosch, speaking of her father's condition, said: "Mr. Blaine is very much better this morning. He had a splendid rest last night, the first good rest he has secured since Thursday. He is quite able to travel to-day and intended to leave for Washington this afternoon, but he is enjoying his rest so much today and securing so much benefit from it, he has concluded, on the advice of Dr. Dennis, to remain until to-morrow afternoon or probably until Wednesday."

THE NEBRASKA MUDDLE.

OMAHA, Neb., May 11.—There is a story gaining ground and belief now in regard to the Boyd-Thayer gubernatorial contest case, which casts a bad light on Judges Cobb and Norval of the Supreme Court. The State Supreme Court, before which the contest was tried, is composed of three judges, Maxwell, the Chief Justice and oldest, Norval, the youngest, and Cobb. The decision of this court, which ousted Boyd and put Thayer in the Governor's chair, is said to have been signed by Norval and Cobb, as Judge Maxwell was out of the State at the time, and did not discuss the merits or issues of the case with his colleagues. He was ignored, and it is also said that Judge Cobb did not give the case much thought. Immediately after the decision was rendered Judge Cobb left the court-room with Gov. Thayer and two friends and proceeding to the clerk's office ordered the writ of ouster against Gov. Boyd issued at once. When Judges Maxwell and Norval heard of this later they grew wrathy and said the act was beneath the dignity of a court and that the defendant had a right to a rehearing and in no event could a writ be issued inside of forty days unless by express orders of the court. Though both Maxwell and Norval said the action of Judge Cobb was in violation of the rules of court they did not care to recall the writ.

WENTWORTH NOT INSANE

THE LAWYER WHO ENDEAVORED TO KILL HIS SISTER'S BETRAYER.

How He Was Prevented From the Consummation of His Purpose—Arrested and Detained at the Bellevue in New York—A Physician's Statement.

NEW YORK, May 11.—A young lawyer from Washington City, who gave his name as John F. Wentworth, was committed to Bellevue Hospital by Justice Welde in the Harlem Court yesterday for examination as to his sanity. The betrayal of a sister is said to be the cause of the young lawyer's trouble. He is 30 years old and comes of a good family in Milwaukee. His sister, a handsome girl of 20, came to New York a year ago. Mr. Wentworth did not learn why she had left her home in Milwaukee until about four months ago. Recently he got the name and description of the man who was responsible for his sister's misfortune. He came to New York at once to look for him and went to the residence of Dr. Francis F. Root, 94 West One Hundred and Fourth street. This was on Tuesday last. Dr. Root is a distant relative of the lawyer. When Wentworth told the doctor the object of his visit the doctor did not at first believe the young man was in earnest, but he took the precaution to watch him rather closely.

A day or two after his arrival Wentworth, having found the man he sought, learned that he was in the habit of leaving home about 8 o'clock every morning, and that he generally rode down town on the Ninth avenue road; also that he took the train at the Ninety-third street station. Yesterday morning Dr. Root found Wentworth examining a 32-caliber revolver. He loaded it carefully, and the doctor asked him what he was doing it for. "I hope at last to meet the betrayer of my sister," Wentworth replied.

Dr. Root locked the door when he left the room, but half an hour later Wentworth had escaped. He must have had a key which fitted the lock. When he discovered Wentworth's absence Dr. Root hurried out and overtook him at Ninety-fourth street. Wentworth was hurrying to the station and was within a block of it.

"Don't try to interfere with me. I am determined to get at that man," he said, threateningly, as he turned and saw the doctor.

Dr. Root walked quietly beside Wentworth a few steps, and then turned suddenly and threw his arms about him. Wentworth struggled to free himself, and failing in this tried to withdraw his hand from his overcoat pocket, in which it had been buried from the time Dr. Root had first caught sight of him. The doctor held him, however, until Policeman Horan arrived. The officer found the loaded revolver in Wentworth's right overcoat pocket and took possession of it. He was taken to the West One Hundredth Street Station, and from there sent to the court, where Dr. Root said he believed the lawyer's mind was affected and that he was a dangerous man to be at large.

"What have you to say to this?" asked the Justice of the prisoner.

"I waive examination," Wentworth quietly answered. He was sent down stairs to await the arrival of an ambulance.

To-day Wentworth established the fact that he is not insane. He will leave the hospital and will go with his parents to Milwaukee. Dr. Root and the parents of the young lawyer called at the hospital yesterday. They talked with Wentworth, who was calm and reserved in manner and seemingly did not wish to murder any one, as he talked with his parents.

"The story about young Wentworth going to kill the betrayer of his sister is true," said Dr. Douglas. "He gave the particulars to me this afternoon, but it is impossible for me to give all the details furnished by Wentworth. My professional honor compels me to withhold information thus imparted. He is not insane, and was not when he came here. He was excited, that was all."

Wentworth's parents, who are in this city on a visit, would not give any information regarding their daughter.

WENTWORTH'S HISTORY.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 11.—John Wentworth, who is under detention in New York, is not from Milwaukee, but Racine. He is the son of ex-Judge John S. Wentworth of that city, who was the occupant of the bench in the First Judicial Circuit for one term a number of years ago. He was succeeded by Judge Winslow. The family is well known in the southern part of the State. They formerly lived in Wentworth County, where Judge Wentworth practiced law until elected Clerk of the Court of Walworth County. After serving in that capacity he was elected to the bench. After his defeat for re-election by Judge Winslow he began the practice of law in Racine. His son, John F. Wentworth, attended the University of Wisconsin Law School. After his graduation he returned to Racine and entered upon the practice of law with his father. Young Wentworth was always of a very nervous disposition and easily excited. He would become so worked up over his cases that sometimes he seemed nearly insane. He finally had to give up business and take a trip West, where he traveled for six months to improve his health. He was appointed to a position in the office of the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington, through the influence of Congressman Caswell. This was about two years ago. A year ago his youngest sister, who has been betrayed, went East, where she is now. Another sister, about five years ago, was married to the artist Corwin, son of the Rev. Eli Corwin, who was at that time pastor of the Racine Presbyterian Church. Mr. and Mrs. Corwin are now residents of New York. Recently Judge and Mrs. Wentworth left for Washington to look after their son. They were expected home this week, but the new turn affairs have taken will probably detain them for a time.

A Sad Story.

The issuance of a warrant for petit larceny against Mrs. Mary Noonan at the Four Courts this morning brought to light an unusually sad story. Mrs. Noonan was arrested on last Saturday night by Officer Hurley of the Central District, being caught running away from the residence of Mrs. May Barnhause, from whose kitchen she had stolen a purse containing $12.20 in cash. It now develops that Mrs. Noonan is a hard drinker. She has seen better days, but has for some time been living with a negress in a tenement house at 407 South Nineteenth street. Her 9-year-old daughter has been taken in charge by the police, and will to-day be taken before the Mayor on an application for commitment to the House of Refuge. Her two boys are roaming the streets and have not yet been found.

We feel justified in saying that our stock of Carpets and Curtains can not be surpassed in any respect in any city of this country. We are showing all the newest patterns of the best manufacturers, and are selling them at prices which enable our customers to furnish their homes at a reasonable cost.

In a stock as large as ours there are always patterns which, though beautiful, do not sell as well as others, and where so many goods are being sold odd lots and remnants will accumulate. It's our business policy to keep everything moving, hence at times we are compelled to sell CHOICE STYLES AT LESS THAN COST. This is one of the times, and will prove a rare opportunity to buy goods way below value. LOOK AT THE PRICES.

TO BREAK A BOYCOTT.

Important Action of the New York Lumber Trade Association.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The Lumber Trade Association begins to-day the lockout and boycott which, its members assert, will cause a total cessation of building operations in this city before long. This action by the association is to force the Board of Walking Delegates to raise the boycott on one of the association's members, Charles F. Buckl & Co., Thirteenth street and the North River. To accomplish this they intend to stop the delivery of lumber to all buildings where union men are at work. In regard to the effect which this proposed boycott will have on the building-trades in this city John D. Crimmins, the contractor, said yesterday that the builders would generally stand by the dealers in their fight with the union.

"It is time to call a halt," said Mr. Crimmins. "There will be a stiff fight, but the only builders who will really suffer are the speculative builders. There are 100 of those builders in this city who employ about fifteen thousand men."

Continuing, Mr. Crimmins said that both himself and David H. King, who is one of the largest builders in this city, would have no trouble in getting lumber and as much as they wanted, as they had made all arrangements necessary.

WAGES ON WORLD'S FAIR WORK.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 11.—The World's Fair Labor Committee has decided to take action to compel the Fair directors to agree to fix a minimum rate of wages. A special meeting of the committee was held to-day at which important measures were agreed upon. A plan of action was mapped out which includes appeals to the Common Council of this city, the Legislature of the State and the labor organizations of the country. Behind this, the committee had under consideration the question of making a general appeal to the labor organizations of England, France and Germany. The committee will present a petition at to-morrow night's meeting of the City Council. One speaker declared it was shameful $200,000 should be voted for an art palace, while a demand by workmen for protection for their bread and butter should be spurned with contempt.

CHICAGO CIGARMAKERS.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 11.—An official statement will be issued by the Cigarmakers' Strike Committee to-day, containing the names of all the firms who have consented to sign the new scale. The exact number of strikers in receipt of relief from the National Union will also be made known. The manufacturers meet to-night. It is expected they will take some action looking toward a settlement of the difficulty. The passage of the union label bill by the Legislature is looked upon by the cigarmakers as likely to be decidedly advantageous to them in case the strike should be prolonged. It will go into effect July 1, after which the manufacturer who counterfeits the label of the union will lay himself open to severe penalties.

WILL PUT IN NON-UNION MEN.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Announcement was made yesterday that the Iron Manufacturers' Association here would open their shops Monday and put in non-union men. This has aroused the passive spirits of the strikers. A meeting of pattern-makers was held this morning at which the chairman of the Housesmiths' Strike Committee was present. It is the intention if the Iron Manufacturers' Association carries out its threats to call out the pattern-makers. This will cause the iron molders to shut off and in consequence there will be no material for the housesmiths to work on. Everybody is waiting to see what happens on Monday. A crisis is anticipated.

IOWA'S COAL SUPPLY EXHAUSTED.

OTTUMWA, Io., May 11.—The significance of the strike now involving the Iowa coal fields is becoming apparent as the visible supply of coal decreases. There was no large supply in the State except that owned by the railroads when the strike went into effect. Though every railway shed was filled and all extra cars are utilized the supply begins to show evidences of exhaustion. No relief can be expected from outside sources, for the Iowa miners, it is said, have the authoritative promise of the Illinois miners that the operatives will be boycotted if they attempt to ship Illinois coal into Iowa. Of the 11,000 miners in Iowa all are out except about 700.

DENOUNCE THE CONVICTION OF BARONDEZ.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Yesterday the socialistic labor organization, the Central Labor Federation, denounced the recent conviction of Barondes, the leader of the cloakmaking strikers, for extortion of money from employers. A manifesto was made declaring that the time had come for an organized and united revolt of the workingmen against class rule, class justice and capitalistic politics.

WAGES ADVANCED.

CONCORD, N.H., May 11.—The Manchester Cigarmakers' Union, whose membership covers not only that city but Concord, Dover, Portsmouth and the entire Northern section of the state, has given notice of an advanced rate of wages to go into effect on Wednesday next and that the manufacturers will accept the new schedule. The advance will be $1.50 on 1,000 first quality cigars, and with a proportionate increase on the lower grades.

BREAKING THE RANKS.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., May 11.—The fourteenth week of the coke fight opened to-day with renewed vigor and at every works running it is claimed that from five to twenty men broke away from the ranks of the strikers. The most important break was at the Painter plant of the McClure Co., where an active labor leader, Clark Gadd, went to work, which action visibly affected the men and will practically end the fight at this plant. Labor leaders are still firm in their statements that men are daily quitting work. The hearing of Capt. Loar and his deputies, who are charged with the killing of eleven strikers at Morewood, is in progress at at Greensburg this afternoon.

MINE OWNERS CENSURED.

CINCINNATI, O., May 11.—A Clarksburg (W. V.) special says: The Coroner's jury in the Ocean mine disaster returned a verdict censuring the owners and mining bosses and accusing them of willfully neglecting the necessary precautions for the safety of the men. The matter will be brought to the attention of the Grand-jury next week.

RAILWAY LABORERS QUIT WORK.

EFFINGHAM, Ill., May 11.—One hundred and seventy-five men working on the Illinois Central rock ballast train at this place struck this morning for $1.50 a day. They have been getting $1.25 a day.

WILL STRIKE JUNE 1.

DULUTH, Minn., May 11.—This morning the Carpenters' Union, embracing all the carpenters at the head of the lakes, some three or four thousand in number, resolved to strike June 1 for an eight-hour day unless their demands for a nine-hour day be granted before that time.

O! the Misery of It.

Human wretchedness touches bottom in sea sickness. Life is held a feather's weight by the unfortunate afflicted with it. Why endure its atrocious internal convulsions when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters relieves them instanter? Not only relieves, but prevents. It is not always on the "briny" that traveler's nausea is experienced. Railway journeying, riding with one's back to the horses or the locomotive, sometimes produces it in super-sensitive stomachs. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is always the prompt remedy. The mischievous properties of brackish water, the evil influence of miasma, unwholesome or unaccustomed food, excessive fatigue, whether bodily or mental, the dyspeptic tendency bred by sedentary pursuits, the pernicious effects of exposure to extremes of temperature or dampness, all these are effectually counteracted by this genial preservative of health. Cures also rheumatism, kidney and bilious trouble.

IF citizens come to the front to-night St. Louis will follow.

REPUBLICANISM has a heavy weight to carry in the acting governors of Nebraska and Connecticut.

THE success of the fall festivities project hangs largely upon the success of the citizens' meeting to-night.

THE result of the Noland case affords additional evidence of the inability of justice to cope with political considerations.

THE indorsement of the object of to-night's meeting at the Exposition is a good thing, but attendance at the meeting would be a better thing.

THE State's attorneys may find strong consolation for the miscarriage of justice in the Noland case in the reflection that they did not prove too much for the good of the State administration.

LATE information warrants the presumption that BOYD's citizenship and right to the Governorship of Nebraska would be unquestioned if he had been elected on the Republican ticket.

MR. BLAINE's friends in the seal fur trade would doubtless appreciate the continuance of the Behring Sea controversy until after the summer catch has commenced, almost as much as a refusal to stop seal killing for a year.

AN editorial paragraph in this morning's Globe-Democrat erroneously states that the mass-meeting of citizens to inaugurate work on the fall festivities will take place next Monday night. The meeting will be held at the Exposition to-night, and citizens should not fail to note the correction and attend the meeting.

POLITICAL ECONOMIST MAGIE, who is trying to prove in the interest of the tariff that proportionate taxation is less now than it ever was, estimates the total amount of taxation for national, State and municipal purposes at $1,000,000,000. Mr. MAGIE does not take into account the enormous taxation which the tariff enables protected manufacturers to levy upon the people of this country.

THE New Orleans grand-jury and citizens justify the lynching of the Italian prisoners by admitting that the machinery of justice in their city is useless. Now what do the New Orleans people propose to do about it? Shall the statute law or the "higher" law prevail hereafter, and will they cast out or continue to countenance the corruption which has made their courts and legislatures a mockery?

IT is unfortunate that the United States should have been drawn into the Chilian difficulties through the seizure and escape of the insurgent steamer Etata. It is a wretched affair from all accounts, and one side is about as bad as the other, with the disadvantage, perhaps, on the side of BALMECEDA, who is said to be preparing for flight. Probably the best thing for the administration to do is to order the naval officers in the Pacific to search for the Etata with their eyes closed.

THE reported resolution of the State's attorneys to "go into every detail of the defalcation and to spare no one" in the next trial of the Noland case is an excellent resolution, but it is taken rather late. It is strange that a mistrial should have been necessary to induce the State's attorneys to adopt this resolution or that they should have gone into the prosecution of a State official charged with crime with an intention not to bring out all the facts and to spare some one. This second thought is a discreditable confession on the part of the prosecution.

THE NOLAND MISTRIAL.

The six Democrats who voted to acquit ex-Treasurer NOLAND heard the same evidence and instructions on which the other six—four Democrats and two Republicans—voted for a verdict of guilty. The six acquitters seized upon the very last sentence in the lengthy and precise instructions and, paying no attention to antecedent definitions and limitations, construed it as authorizing them to acquit unless they believed NOLAND took the money with the intention of depriving the State of it forever.

Such a construction was directly opposed to the precise language of the statute and of the instruction in which the Judge told them that the law inferred the criminal intent from the criminal act, and that, if satisfied by evidence that he was guilty of the act, they must find him guilty as charged in the indictment, even though they should believe from the evidence that the defendant intended at some future time to restore the money unlawfully taken.

With this instruction and the most conclusive proof of the act staring them in the face, it is a plain case of six men determined by party feeling, personal liking for ED NOLAND or pity for his wife and children, to save him on any pretext from the Penitentiary. They were easily convinced that he had only been a little too free in accommodating friends with the State's money, or a little too confident of his ability to pay it back after converting it temporarily to his own use, and they could not find it in their hearts to punish both him and his poor wife for that sort of thing.

The prosecution had been warned by former mistrials and acquittals to be on its guard against this sort of feeling and against the clannishness which sometimes invades the jury box in our State to acquit friends or delinquent public officials on personal or party grounds, in spite of conclusive evidence that they have dishonored public trusts and broken the laws. Yet the consideration for others which limited the investigation to the bare facts necessary for a technical verdict of guilty, was easily accepted by the acquitters in the jury box as a hint not to be hard on NOLAND.

It will save the State some expense to dismiss the case at once, unless the prosecution is to go into it next time with untied hands to show up the bottom facts as to what NOLAND did with the money, who got it, and what influence suspended the operation of the laws which should have stopped him in the very first stage of his Treasury tapping career.

NOLAND was indicted under a statute providing that he should be punished as for stealing if it should be shown that he had converted State money to his own use "in any manner whatever," or that he had used it "by way of investment in any kind of property or merchandise," or that he had made way with or secreted "any portion of the public moneys." The prosecution contented itself with showing simply that he had made way with $32,000, which had been restored by his bondsmen. This was basis enough for a unanimous verdict of guilty. But the fact that the prosecution did not attempt to show that he had converted the money to his own use in any manner whatever, was made the ground on which six quibbling jurymen voted to acquit. Next time he is tried the prosecution should summon some of the witnesses who know just how NOLAND used the money, and compel them to testify.

THE information reported to have been brought to light through official sources with regard to the decision of the Nebraska Supreme Court in the Boyd-Thayer election contest gives the action of the court the appearance of another disgraceful instance in which the judicial office has been made to serve partisan ends in a dishonorable way. It is charged that there was no discussion of the merits of the case by the full bench, that one Republican Judge wrote the decision and another surreptitiously issued the writ of ouster in defiance of law and usage, and that the conduct of THAYER and his friends showed that they were certain of a decision in their favor before it was rendered. The decision itself contained evidence of unworthy partisan bias on the bench, but if these assertions are substantiated the Republican party of Nebraska has a heavy score to settle with the outraged people of the State.

STATE SENATOR SAM MAJORS has instituted a new departure in politics by suing his constituents for slander on account of resolutions adopted by them denouncing his votes in the Legislature. If he should succeed in getting damages he would open a wide field of possible profit to discredited statesmen and would somewhat embarrass constitutents in the free expression of opinion regarding their representatives. But why not go further and have suits for damages instituted against voters for refusing to re-elect officials? An adverse vote is a damaging reflection on the character of a candidate for re-election.

ITS CRITICAL YEAR.

The Order of Railway Conductors Convening in St. Louis.

DECISIVE ACTION TO BE TAKEN REGARDING NATIONAL FEDERATION.

A Gathering 1,000 Strong Attracted by the Convention Opening To-Morrow—Grand Public Reception at Entertainment Hall—Important Questions Awaiting Settlement—The Programme.

Parlor No. 24 at the Laclede Hotel is a scene of activity this morning. It is the headquarters of the Order of Railway Conductors, the twenty-third annual convention of which opens to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock at Addington's Hall, Seventeenth and Olive streets. Grand Secretary and Treasurer Wm. Preston Daniels of Cedar Rapids, Io., is installed in Parlor 24, and all arriving delegates report to him, presenting the credentials from their respective local divisions. The arrivals to-day were numerous, and to-night's trains are expected to bring in the last of the 325 accredited delegates. Besides this number, however, there will be also a large attendance of members of the order not empowered to sit in the convention, and the total number attracted to the city by the convention of the order is expected to reach 1,000. Many ladies are among this number.

The leading officers of the order are already on hand, Grand Chief Conductor Edgar Erastus Clark of Cedar Rapids, Io., Assistant Grand Chief Conductor Charles Herbert Wilkins of Chicago and Executive Committee Chairman Howard Evans of Schenectady, N. Y., having registered at the Laclede yesterday morning. Nearly all the officers bring their wives with them. The Laclede rotunda is crowded with delegates and the badge of the order of Railway Conductors shows on nearly every coat-lapel in the jam.

GRAND OFFICERS AND COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN.

The list of officers and committee chairmen, all of whom were expected to be present at to-morrow's opening session, is as follows:

Grand Chief Conductor, Edgar Erastus Clark of Cedar Rapids, Io.; Assistant Grand Chief Conductor, Charles Herbert Wilkins of Chicago; Grand Secretary and Treasurer, Wm. Preston Daniels of Cedar Rapids, Io.; Grand Senior Conductor, Austin Bruce Garrettson of Osceola, Io.; Grand Junior Conductor, J. D. Shults of Rochester, N. Y.; Grand Inside Sentinel, Frank A. Dorsey of Winnipeg, Man.; Grand Outside Sentinel, W. Decker of Port Jervis, N. Y.

The Executive Committee is composed as follows: Howard Evans, Schenectady, N. Y., term expiring June, 1891, chairman; Martin Clancy, Kent, O., 1892; Richard Edward Fitzgerald, St. Louis, 1893. Insurance Committee, Charles Edwin Weisy of Middletown, N. Y., 1891, chairman; Wm. John Durbin of Milwaukee, Wis., 1892; Samuel Phipps, Phillipsburg, N. J., 1893. The standing committees and chairmen are as follows: Grand Officers' Reports, W. Baldwin, chairman; Grievances and Appeals, H. Reardon, Chairman; Jurisprudence, B. F. Blount, Chairman; Finance, H. T. Bolles, Chairman; Division Reports, W. R. Mooney, Chairman; Insurance, other than law, J. P. Stutsman, Chairman.

Local Division, No. 3, of the Order of Railway Conductors has charge of the reception and entertainment of the visiting delegates, and its committees are now busy preparing for a series of events that will reflect credit upon St. Louis, "the Convention City." The three local committee now on active duty are as follows:

Committee on Entertainments, R. E. Fitzgerald, Chairman; W. F. Lewis, W. C. Turner, N. C. De Pew and J. M. Babcock.

Committee on Hotels, same as above, with W. F. Lewis as Chairman.

Committee on Transportation, Joseph Flory, Chairman; J. C. Hooton, J. H. Merrifield, F. D. Hartell, and George W. Newland. The Committee on Halls, having closed its work by engaging Addington's for the convention sessions, has disbanded. The various committees are distinguished by handsome satin badges of different colors.

OPENING RECEPTION AT ENTERTAINMENT HALL.

The business of the convention will be transacted in executive session, but there will be a grand open reception tendered the order at Entertainment Hall of the Exposition building at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning. This will be a notable affair, attended by all visiting delegates and their ladies, as well as by the local friends of the order, and it is expected that Entertainment Hall will be crowded to the doors. Chief Conductor Henry E. Schewing of Local Division No. 3 will act as master of ceremonies and will call the public reception to order. The ceremonies will be opened with prayer by Rev. B. M. Messick of the Cook Avenue M. E. Church South. The first speaker introduced will be Gov. D. R. Francis, who is expected to deliver the address of welcome, which will be responded to by Grand Chief Conductor E. E. Clark. Mayor E. A. Noonan is billed for the next speech, and will be followed by Congressman J. J. O'Neill and others. At the close of the public reception the delegates will, after a return to their hotels for lunch, proceed to Addington's Hall, where the opening session of the convention will be called to order by Grand Chief Conductor E. E. Clark at 1 o'clock p. m. and the business awaiting the convention's action be taken up. Admission to the hall is restricted strictly to duly accredited delegates whose passports are vised by the Grand Secretary. It is expected that the convention will be in session at least ten days.

PROGRAMME OF ENTERTAINMENT.

The programme of entertainment is not yet definitely arranged, but will comprise the following features, together with others to be added during the progress of the convention: An excursion on the steamer Grand Republic, tendered by Capt. W. H. Thorwegan, the date for which is not yet fixed; an excursion on the belt roads, crossing both the Eads and Merchants' bridge, on invitation to the convention from the Missouri Pacific and Wabash Railroads, date not yet fixed; a visit to the plant of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association on special invitation from President Adolphus Busch of that company, who will be notified this evening of the time appointed for the visit and who will prepare for a royal reception of the railroad men. On Thursday night there will be a grand "convention ball" given at Liederkranz Hall, Thirteenth street and Chouteau avenue, under the auspices of Local Division, No. 3, which will be a brilliant affair. It will be directed by the local Entertainment Committee already named, and will be gotten up on a brilliant scale. The ball will be beautifully decorated with flowers and emblems of the order, and with the visiting ladies and the hundreds of local feminine friends of the order present in evening dress the scene will be a bright one.

In addition to the entertainment in St. Louis the Grand Division has been tendered by the Missouri Pacific Railroad an excursion through the State of Texas, which invitation has been accepted. The Grand officers will leave St. Louis at the close of the convention on a special train provided for the Texas excursion. At Jefferson City they will be given a reception at the Gubernatorial mansion on special invitation of Gov. Francis, and at Sedalia, Mo., a public reception will mark their visit. Stops will be made at all the principal Texas points and the excursion is expected to last for probably ten days, during which a continued round of hospitable gaiety will mark the reception and entertainment of the visiting grand officers.

BUSINESS COMING BEFORE THE CONVENTION.

Of the business coming before the convention at its St. Louis sessions but little will be said by the officers of the order. Grand Chief Conductor Clark was seen by a POST-DISPATCH reporter this morning, but stated that he preferred not to discuss matters coming before the convention for its action in executive session. It will be remembered that Mr. Clark was in St. Louis some months ago on invitation from the Grievance Committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors, at which time a strong pressure was brought to bear on him to bring about an affiliation between the two rival orders of railway conductors. The conference at that time was stated to have been without results, but it was understood that the question of the Order affiliating with the Brotherhood would come before the present convention. While Grand Chief Conductor Clark declined to discuss the matter a promient delegate stated that a committee would undoubtedly be appointed to confer with a similar committee from the Brotherhood on the important question. Beyond the appointment of this committee no action would be taken by this convention. But on the subject of joining the National Order of Train Employes the present convention will take decisive action, it was stated, and for that reason the meeting opening to-morrow will prove the most important held by the order for some years, and probably the most significant in results of its entire history. It was stated this morning that while there was a bitter minority opposition to the idea of federation, there was but little doubt that the convention would declare in favor of joining the National Order.

The question of transferring the headquarters of the order from Cedar Rapids, Io., will also come up from the last regular convention held at Toledo, O. There is a strong sentiment in favor of establishing the headquarters at some larger and more central city, and there are several points making a vigorous canvass to secure the honor. There is a probability that St. Louis may be selected as the headquarters city, at which all future conventions of the order will be held.

THE ELECTION OF A GRAND SECRETARY.

Under the invariable rule of the order, the election of officers is set for the first Saturday following the opening day of each annual convention. There will be no change in the office of the Grand and Assistant Grand Chief Conductors of the order this year, as those officers were elected one year ago to serve for three years. There will, however, be a spirited fight over the election of the Grand Secretary and Treasurer, whose term expires this year. The present incumbent, Wm. Preston Daniels, has been in office for the past eight years, serving four terms of two years each, and while he has a strong backing for re-election, there is said to be a feeling among some of the delegates in favor of a more pronounced rotation in office. There are four candidates in the field against Secretary Daniels, but there is said to be strong probability of his re-election, as he has made a most efficient officer and is extremely popular. Among the other offices in which changes are to be made during the sessions of the present convention are those of Chairman of the Executive Committee and Chairman of the Insurance Committee, Grand Senior and Junior Conductors and Grand Inside and Outside Sentinels, whose terms are only of one year's duration. Conventions of the order have never been known to be in session for less than eight days, and it is expected that the present meeting will exceed that limit by several days.

BREYFOGLE RESIGNS.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 11.—In an interview Dr. Breyfogle acknowledges that he has tendered his resignation as assistant to the President of the Monon. He says: "I have not severed my connection with the Monon, however, as I am still a director and member of the Executive Committee. The Crawford charges had nothing whatever to do with my resignation, the Board of Directors refusing to consider them and regarding them as absolutely false and extremely frivolous."

Boilermakers' Convention.

To-morrow morning the boilermakers will meet in convention at the Lindell Hotel. Representatives from more than fifteen States will be present, and the meeting will continue until the latter part of the week. The subjects discussed will be of interest to all concerned in the trade, and particular attention will be paid to the subject of boiler inspection. In this department there is a great difference in the various States and cities, and while in some places the inspection is severe and experts are employed to make the examinations in others no such strictness is observed, and very inferior workmanship and material is accepted. This is recognized not only as a danger to the public, but also as an injustice to the manufacturers who turn out good work; and an effort will be made to take steps to secure a uniform system of boiler inspection. Severity of inspection is not nearly so much complained of as laxity.

The first order of the programme to-morrow morning will be an address of welcome by Mayor Noonan. Following this the Executive Committee will submit its report and then the annual review of the officers will be read. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a carriage drive to the principal points of interest in the city, which will include an inspection of the Anheuser-Busch Brewery and a lunch in the House of Public Comfort at the Fair Grounds. In the evening the delegates will attend one of the theaters in a body. The second day will be closely devoted to business and the discussion of such features as may come before the body, and at 4.20 p. m. the party will take a trip over the Merchants' Terminal to the new town of Madison. On Thursday the order will be strictly business from 10 to 1 o'clock. An hour later there will be a steamboat excursion, on which the closing session of the association will be held. Twenty-three States will be represented, and it is expected that the delegates attending will number over 250. The national officers are: James Laphan, Pittsburg, President; Phil Rohan, St. Louis, Vice-President; Richard Hammond, Buffalo, Treasurer; E. D. Meir, St. Louis, Secretary.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

ANXIOUS SUBSCRIBER.—Translations are not furnished in this column. Consult a lexicon.

CONSTANT READER.—Marriage licenses can be obtained in all the cities in the vicinity of St. Louis.

GRANT.—B wins. The extent of Siberia is not exactly 16,000 miles greater than that of the countries named.

CONSTANT READER.—You can institute suit to recover the money paid, for which no equivalent was returned.

NONPAREIL.—There is no dictionary that is the admitted standard of authority. Webster and Worcester are the most popular in this country, and they often differ.

FRED S.—Your question cannot be decided on your statement of the case. If any by-law provided for written resignation or for verbal resignation acceptable only after full payment of dues or under any other specified condition, the simple majority vote on the motion to accept may not set such provision aside, and accordingly Mr. Smith might justly claim all privileges of membership. If there is no provision on the subject and no time specified in the resignation, it presumably takes effect at once, the outgoing member's appeal being a parliamentary motion to reconsider.

Schaefer Murder Trial.

In the Criminal Court this morning the work of impaneling a jury in the case against George Schaefer was commenced. The defendant is under indictment for murder in the first degree. On the night of Sept. 21, 1889, Schaefer shot and instantly killed a young shoemaker named Henry G. Grattan. The defendant took offense at being called "Crazy George," and with a 22-caliber revolver did fatal execution, putting a bullet into his tormentor's head. The killing took place in front of Schaefer's home, at 1116 Cass avenue. Mulvihill & Dodge, who are conducting the defense, will introduce expert testimony tending to show that their client is mentally unsound. The trial of the case will be commenced on Wednesday morning.

NOLAND TALKS.

Some Heretofore Unwritten History of the Treasury Defalcation.

THE EX-TREASURER'S KINSMAN AND ATTORNEY MAKES A STATEMENT.

He Charges That Gov. Francis Entered Into an Agreement to Suppress the News of the Shortage, but Weakened After the First Publication—Interesting Developments Promised.

Some exceedingly interesting developments may be looked for at the next trial of ex-State Treasurer Noland. It will certainly not be as tame as the examination which concluded Saturday evening in a mistrial. The rich developments are promised by the counsel for the accused, and Attorney Chas. Noland said this morning the testimony would be offered when Judge Burgess was ready to proceed with the next trial. Among other things, Mr. Noland said the defense would prove some facts in connection with Ed Noland's defalcation that would certainly not be to the liking of Gov. D. R. Francis.

CHARLES NOLAND TELLS A TALE.

"We will tell," he said, "just how Gov. Francis consented to an arrangement to cover up the defalcation, and how he backed down and out after giving his acquiescence to the plan to save Ed Noland's reputation and the State the disgrace of having its Treasurer announced as a defaulter. There are facts in connection with this unfortunate affair that I am not afraid to make public even though I do place myself in a position that might invite criticism. I was the person who went to New York to tell Gov. Francis of Ed Noland's shortage. I did this, hoping that an arrangement might be consummated to get the money back in the Treasury and thus prevent an expose. I did not talk to Gov. Francis about the matter directly, but did it through the medium of another person. That man was Col. Joe Rickey. He acted as the medium and carried the messages that passed between Gov. Francis and myself at the Hoffman House in New York City. I will state frankly that I wanted to have the shortage made good and the matter quieted to save the name that I, as well as Ed Noland, bear. Gov. Francis did enter into the arrangement to suppress the news of the shortage and then deserted it to make what he undoubtedly considered a popular movement. He did this when he took charge of the State Treasury and suspended Noland. The meeting of Noland's bondsmen that was held in this city before the Governor took this step was for the purpose of raising the amount necessary to make it good. Gov. Francis was aware of all this, and had agreed to be a party to the transaction."

TO SAVE NOLAND.

"When ex-Gov. Morehouse, who was one of the sureties, heard of Ed's trouble he came to the capital and, like the true friend he was, started in at once to rescue him, so far as it lay in his power. He said, when told of the shortage, that he did not want to hear the details; all he desired was to arrange the matter as quietly and as effectively as possible by raising the amount among the surities to meet the shortage. It was to that end that the sureties were called together at the Lindell Hotel. He left nothing undone to carry out the arrangement to supply the missing money and prevent the disgrace and scandal that followed. He did stand by his agreement, but Gov. Francis did not. I was in Jefferson City the day the meeting was held in this city, and we expected to see some of the bondsmen up that night on the first train from St. Louis. Mr. Fanning, then the Governor's Secretary, and myself waited that night, confident that everything had came out satisfactorily, and that the money would be brought up without fail. The first train came up, but the men and money did not come, and we watched for the next train with the same result.

THE GOVERNOR'S ACTION.

"The papers then came out announcing that there was a shortage, and telling of the meeting of Noland's sureties. The Governor then saw his chance to make a move and he made it, by taking charge of the Treasury and suspending Noland. He had known of the shortage before, but kept it quiet in accordance with the agreement. From the time he suspended Noland until the close of the trial, Saturday, Gov. Francis has been exceedingly active in making things appear as badly as possible against the ex-State Treasurer. While he wanted Ed held up in the worst light possible, he did not want anything brought out that might expose him to criticism. We will at the next trial prove some new facts that will not be so much to his liking.

ANOTHER CHARGE.

"One of the first men to violate the law prohibiting the taking of money from the State Treasury without a warrant from the State Auditor in the Francis administration was the Governor himself. The constitution and statutes are very strict on this subject, and the Governor above all other State officers is expected to see to their rigid enforcement. Yet before any appropriation had been made for his salary, he went into the State Treasury and drew it from Jan. 14 to Feb. 1, and left his due bill behind, which was counted as cash. This was only a few days after he was in office. We are ready at any time for the next trial, and we propose, as I said before, not to let Gov. Francis down so easily in this matter."

A CAMP JACKSON RELIC.

The Sword Taken From Maj. Schaefer in 1861.

Mr. William Fayel of this city is the possessor of a Camp Jackson relic. It is the identical sword captured from Maj. Schaefer on the night of April 25, 1861, by the minute men. They got information that a number of street cars by order of Capt. Lyon had started from the Arsenal laden with arms for the Tenth Ward Union men. The rumor created intense excitement and when the cars reached Locust on Fifth street they were stopped by a crowd from the Berthold Mansion, the headquarters of minute men, and the "Mercantile Saloon," who rushed through the cars looking for the weapons. Two of the boldest and most active, Bob Loudon and Arthur McCoy, found the Federal officer, and covering him with their revolvers, forced him to deliver up his sword, which he gave to McCoy. The trophy was taken to "Jenny's Camp," on Green and Eleventh streets, and presented by the captor to an old friend, subsequently a county Judge, who afterwards gave it to its present owner.

It was manufactured in 1859 at Chicopee, Mass., for cavalry service. The scabbard is somewhat rusted by time, but the blade nearly as bright as when surrendered by the original owner.

North St. Louis Improvements.

An important meeting of the Northwestern Improvement Association will be held next Wednesday night at Teutonia Hall, Twenty-second and Montgomery streets. At the last meeting of the Association a number of important improvements for North St. Louis were discussed and placed in the hands of committees for consideration, which will be reported upon at this meeting, and one of the most important questions before the Association is the reconstruction and widening of St. Louis avenue, also the removal of the pipe yards located on part of the old water works property on Maiden lane. The question of the approval of the building of the pontoon bridge across the river at the foot of Bremen avenue will be discussed, and also a number of other improvements necessary in North St. Louis. The association has sent special invitations to Councilmen Wehner, Grimes and L. C. Dieckmann and L. J. McGroarty, members of the House of Delegates from the Twelfth and Sixteenth Wards; also Maj. M. J. Murphy, Street Commissioner, to be present.

PRESIDENT HARRISON.

Presented With a Silver Brick by the Smelters of Leadville.

LEADVILLE, Colo., May 11.—The presidential party arrived here at 7:30 o'clock this morning and was given a most enthusiastic reception. A large and enthusiastic crowd of people met at the depot. The party was conducted immediately upon arrival to carriages and driven to the hotel. The streets and buildings were handsomely decorated. At the hotel Judge L. M. Goddard delivered the welcoming address and presented to the President a brick weighing eighty ounces, or nearly seven pounds, made of Leadville silver 999 fine. It is an exact fac simile of the silver bricks as they come from the refineries.

The face of the brick bears the following:

TO BENJAMIN HARRISON,
PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.
From the Smelters of Leadville, May 11, 1891.

On the reverse side was the inscription:

159,633,078 in Twelve Years.

The President made the following response:

MR. MAYOR AND FELLOW CITIZENS—This rare, pure atmosphere; this bright sunshine; the national colors; this multitude of lifting, smiling faces to greet us is a scene that should raise the dullest heart to heights of thankfulness and pride, pride wholly separated from personal considerations, a pride in which everything personal is swallowed up by the contemplation that all this is the outcome, the manifestation, the culmination of free American institutions. [Cheers.] We stand here on this mountain top and see what I think is the highest evidence of American pluck to be found in the United States. [Laughter and applause.] I have addressed my fellow citizens on many thousands of occasions, but have never before stood so near the dome [cheers]. It is a wonderful testimony to the energy and adoption of the American that he should have pushed his way to this high altitude above the snow line and crested here these magnificent and extensive industries and these beautiful and happy homes. I rejoice with you in all that has been accomplished here, I bring thanks to you for that great contribution you have made to the wealth of a country we all love. [Cheers.] I bring to you the assurance that an individual citizen and as a public officer my interest, my affection and my duty embrace all the people of this land. You have not gotten above the high reach of affection of our consideration. I am glad to know I have in the past history of our country, in its Legislature, found that happy unity of interest which has benefited all our institutions and all our people with due regard to all local interest. We should seek that general legislation which touched with kindly fingers the humblest homes in the land. I do sincerely thank you for this token of the product of your mines, it is a precious metal, but much more precious to me is the kindly thought and the generous welcome which you have given us in Leadville. [Cheers.] My lungs are unaccustomed to this rare atmosphere, and you will permit me to close by giving you all, to the men who, deep down in these mines, are toilsomely working out the precious metal; to those who welcome you in your homes when you return from your toil, the wives and children who add grace and sweetness to our lives; to the children who gathered to greet us, we give greeting and salutation and a regretful good-bye. [Cheers.]

Postmaster-General Wanamaker and Secretary Rusk made short speeches, which were received with cheers, after which the party re-entered their carriages and were driven to the mines where they had a cordial reception and thence back to the train, which rolled out of the depot at 9 o'clock amid the hearty cheers of the populace. The demonstration by over three thousand school children was one of the most attractive features of the day. The ladies of the party received many beautiful souvenirs, including silver spoons, bullion bars, mineralized etchings and specimens and flowers.

It was learned here to-day that some of the party were robbed of small sums of money while at the Portland Hotel, Portland, Ore., last Tuesday night. It was undoubtedly the work of sneak thieves.

EAST ST. LOUIS AND BELLEVILLE.

Fatally Injured by Tramps—News Across the River.

Samuel Straight, a brakeman employed on the Louisville & Nashville road, who resides at No. 511 Ohio avenue, in East St. Louis, was brought home last night from Nashville, Ill., where he had been injured, probably fatally by tramps. The tramps, two in number, were stealing a ride on a freight train, and when Straight attempted to put them off they set upon him and gave him a terrible beating. His skull was fractured by a blow one of the tramps dealt him with a club, and he was otherwise severely injured. A physician who attended him at his home thinks he will die. His assailants were not arrested.

The committee appointed to arrange for the Board of Trade banquet on the 19th inst. will meet to-night to complete their plans. Ex-Gov. E. O. Stanard of Missouri has written the Reception Committee an acceptance of the invitation tendered him to deliver an address at the banquet.

The Supreme Court has denied the application of the city of East St. Louis for an order of mandamus to compel County Clerk Rhein to turn over the tax books on New Brighton property to Assessor Enright. This amounts to a ruling that the New Brighton territory is still a part of the township of Centerville Station, though a part of the city of East St. Louis.

Miss Fannie Massey, aged 17, daughter of James Massey of 325 Converse avenue, died yesterday. The funeral took place this afternoon at St. Peter's Cemetery. Rev. Lemuel Cramp performed religious services.

Belleville.

The Senn keg factory, near the Waugh steel plant, caught fire at 3 o'clock this morning and burned to the ground, the firemen being powerless to control the blaze, there being no water obtainable in the neighborhood. About $3,000 worth of kegs and material were consumed. The property was insured.

The funeral of Frank C. Davis took place at Walnut Hill Cemetery yesterday afternoon. Rev. H. E. Fuller of the Baptist Church conducted the religious services. Members of Col. Mersy Camp, Sons of Veterans, and of the Belleville Athletic Club attended the funeral in a body.

John Gebhard's slaughter-house and meat store-house burned yesterday evening, entailing a loss of $2,000. The loss is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. There was no insurance on the property.

The Standards of St. Louis defeated the Pinafores in an interesting game at National Park yesterday. The score was 9 to 6.

PAINTERS ARE ALL OUT.

FULLY FIVE HUNDRED OF THEM ASSEMBLE AT TURNER HALL.

They Are Confident That They Will Bring the Bosses to Time in a Few Days—Carpenters, Housesmiths and Sheet-Iron Workers Still Firm.

At yesterday's meeting of the painters a general strike was decided upon, and this morning fully 500 of the men assembled in the gymnasium room at Central Turner Hall Building. The session was an extremely exciting one, and at times personal encounters were only averted by the presence of mind displayed by President W. S. De Vaux, who was in the chair. James Wrigley was Secretary.

Several employers who said they were willing to pay the 35 cents were present, each one making a plea to have their men back to work this afternoon. Twenty different workmen desired to speak at the same moment, and quiet was only restored by an energetic use of the gavel by Mr. De Vaux. A representative of Newcomb Bros. shop claimed that they could not be classed as painters, and said that it was not right to have men called off who were receiving the 35 cents an hour. W. R. Taylor spoke in the same strain and said that he had work which must be completed immediately. He is a member of the brotherhood, he said, and he did not fancy having his men called off every few days.

S. H. Suffert, upon the termination of Mr. Taylor's talk, raised a windy discussion by making a motion that all bosses willing to pay the scale should also be required to sign a contract to employ none but brotherhood men. Charles Hurt, who has been a leader since the beginning of the trouble, strongly favored the motion. Some man in the back part of the hall amended this motion, that all matters pertaining to complications of this kind be referred to the Executive Board. A substitute, in the shape of making the agreement verbal instead of written, was made, and another long and bitter discussion ensued, which was only quieted by loud raps by the Chairman.

Thomas Carson explained why the men were all called out this morning and his speech had the effect of somewhat quieting the tumult. Said he: "Everybody here knows or should know why this was declared a general strike. It was evident that if something was not done the forces marshaled at first would go to pieces and the strike be lost. We need committees to force the men off who are not members of the brotherhood. The bosses who claim to be in such a hurry can surely wait until Wednesday for their men, as I believe the strike will be won by that time."

So many people desired to speak at the same time, a great number of whom asked for information as to why they were striking, that Chairman De Vaux mounted the table and made a most brilliant speech, pointing out in a clear, concise way the necessity of everyman who is a member of the brotherhood to receive the 35 cent scale and not just a portion of them. He declared that the talking was merely a waste of time and energies and that he proposed to put the question which occurred on the amendment, the same being adopted by an overwhelming vote. This, in effect, is that the Executive Board will not require the bosses to sign a scale.

The next order of business was the appointment of visiting committees, who are to do all in their power "in a gentlemanly way," according to Mr. De Vaux's instructions, "to induce men to stop work as painters" for a few days at least.

The action taken by the painters places the entire affair in the hands of nine men, composing the Executive Board, and the general feeling is that there will be clashes between the Visiting Committees and the men at work. The Executive Board will be constantly in session at the brotherhood reading room, 522 Pine street, where all the committees are expected to report.

The master painters who have employed brotherhood men seem disposed to allow the strike to continue a day or two without taking measures to fill the positions occupied by them. The bosses who are members of the Master Painters' Exchange assert that they can procure all the men they desire, and that the general strike does not affect them in the least.

Carpenters Are Determined.

The carpenters who are out on strike were not numerous around headquarters, although a constant stream was coming and going from the room occupied by the Strike Committee. The situation remains unchanged, except that the men start in with renewed confidence of success with the beginning of the week. There is little or no difference in the number of men at work. Henry Blackman, chairman of the Strike Committee, says that a great number of carpenters are out of employment, because of the scarcity of stone and brick. He expressed the opinion that the Master Builders' Association, whatever action they choose to take to-morrow, will make little change in the situation. The claim is made by the strikers that master builders who are organized have done the worst within their power and that nothing they can do will in the least disturb the men.

On the other hand the bosses, while a great many of them publicly claim otherwise, acknowledge in private that their resolution had little effect upon the course that is being pursued by the bosses, several of whom have been compelled to give in, owing to work which must be completed. At to-morrow's meeting an effort will be made to raise the price to 40 cents per hour, and though there is little prospect of the success of such a move, it will either carry or most probably cause a split in the association. The builders themselves acknowledged this much this morning.

Tin, Sheet Iron and Cornice-Workers.

The striking tin, sheet iron and cornice men, now reduced to less than one hundred, assembled at Central Turner Hall as usual this morning, and they have more hope of winning than a few days ago. At Saturday night's meeting it is claimed that twenty-five non-union men shipped here by the bosses were initiated into the union. The men make the statement that those who have stayed out will win yet, despite the discouragements with which they have met.

The Iron Workers.

There was no change in the situation as to the striking housesmiths. They are still out and their meeting at Labor Hall this morning was well attended, and the same grim determination which has existed all along was still manifest. No disposition is shown to give in, the men declaring that they will stay out all summer rather than go back to work at the old rates. All the workmen who have been employed by the bosses thus far have been induced to quit work and become members of the union. The visiting committees are vigilant, and every means known to human ingenuity is being employed to keep the places of the strikers unfilled.

Marble-Workers' Strike.

Twenty-five polishers and rubbers, employed by the Pickel Marble Co., went out on a strike this morning, upon being refused a demand for an eight-hour day. They met at Labor Hall this morning for the first time, and declare they will stay out until their employers are willing to give in. This move shows the mode upon which the high-grade marble workers are fighting the bosses. The setters have just won their demands and gone to work, and now the polishers and rubbers conclude to go out. The men employed by several other firms have given the employers until 5 o'clock this afternoon to make answer, the prospects being that there will be 150 men out to-morrow morning.

TO HAVE A HOTEL.

A Proposition to Be Submitted to the Mass Meeting To-Night.

CAPITALISTS READY TO FURNISH THE FUNDS FOR THE NEW BUILDING.

The City's Need Will Be Met at Last by the Erection of a Magnificent Structure —A Definite Proposition Made to the Hotel Committee—The Real Estate Transactions.

It is not speaking thoughtlessly to say that a new grand hotel is assured. The Hotel Committee of the Autumnal Festival Association will have a report to make to the mass meeting to-night which will give assurance that within the next two years an hotel unsurpassed by any in the country will be built in this city.

There have been various rumors of late concerning the building of a new hotel and various places have been spoken of as the sites on which it was to be located, but it has been difficult to find any foundation for them or to learn the exact source from which they come. They were not idle reports, however, but rather variations upon the true statement of what been done. For some time past there have been meetings of men who were interested in the project to try to arrive at an understanding or to hit upon some scheme which could be successfully carried out. Various blocks have been spoken of at these meetings and each one that was mentioned gave rise to a new report that the hotel project was an assured success.

THE HOTEL COMMITTEE.

The latest report located it upon the site of a certain theater which has been looked upon as a good location for a hotel for a long time. Other reports have placed it on Ninth and Washington avenue, and numerous other places. Back of all these rumors is the fact that there are a number of wealthy men who have recognized the need for a hotel for years, and have been willing to furnish money to build one, but they have never formulated a definite scheme, nor acted together. When the Autumnal Festival Association appointed a hotel committee the first idea was that it should perform the usual duties of such a committee, but finding that there was a chance to do more the committee broadened its own field and went into the scheme of a new hotel. Mr. M. C. Wetmore, the Chairman, called several meetings which were attended not only by members of the committee but by others who were interested. The result of these meetings was a definite proposition which will be submitted to the meeting to-night.

THE PROPOSITION.

The report of the Hotel Committee has already been prepared by Mr. Wetmore, but of course will not be published before the meeting. It is sufficient to say that those who attend will hear that a gratifying proposition will be made; a proposition from certain responsible men to build the hotel provided a certain sum is raised by the citizens. That the bonus can be received there is no doubt, and that done the hotel is as good as built. Just where it will be located is indefinite. There seems to be a general desire on account of the rapid growth of the city to place it a little west of the present business section, but it is not likely that any such location will be chosen. The business men and the men who will furnish the money are said to believe that it ought to be in the business section, not west of seventh street, and it is probable that a block somewhere east of that street will be chosen. The new hotel is a bigger scheme than most people imagine. It is not simply another like the two large ones here now, but a magnificent structure surpassing even the Auditorium of Chicago. The determination upon the part of the business men to have this much-needed addition to the facilities of St. Louis for entertaining its visitors insures the success of the project, and it is now almost certain that the building will be begun by the autumn.

PAGE AVENUE PROPERTY.

John Dwyer has made a quick turn in vacant ground on the south side of Page avenue, out of which he has made a profit of $7,000 in a few hours.

He bought the property from Otto Mersman, who bought it in connection with other parties for $43,000 less than a year ago. Mr. Mersman will convey to Mr. Dwyer at an advance of $11,000 and the report is that the last purchaser has sold the ground for an advance of $7,000 to Kilgen & Rule. The property embraces a total frontage of 8,200 feet on the south side of Page avenue, commencing about 1,000 feet east of Union avenue and extending east opposite the old Cote Brilliante race course. The center of Mr. Dwyer's purchase would be about half way between Union avenue and King's highway. It is said he paid $58,000 for the tract.

Kilgen & Rule said the report that they had bought from Dwyer was not true. They did not know how such a rumor could have gotten out. Negotiations to buy from Dwyer were in progress, they admitted, but were anxious that nothing would be published in the newspapers, as such information might spoil the deal.

NORMANDY HEIGHTS.

E. S. Guignon & Bro. sold a seven-room residence in Normandy Heights to Wm. A. Giraldin for $5,000. The lot is 145x300 and located at the corner of St. Ann's lane and the Natural Bridge road. E. S. Guignon was the grantor. The purchaser bought for a home site.

AN ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE.

An administrator's sale of realty will be conducted at 3 o'clock to-morrow upon the premises by the Hammett-Anderson-Wade Real Estate Co. At the hour named the premises No. 401 and 413 North Second street and No. 518 and 520 North Main street will be sold. At 3:30 p. m. the improved property Nos. 217, 219, 221, 223, 223½, 225, 227, 229 and 231 Russell avenue, at the corner of Third street, is to be sold. At 4:30 a lot of 100x125 feet on the east side of Michigan avenue, commencing 245 feet south of Cherokee street, will also go under the hammer upon very liberal terms.

TO MAKE A NEW SUBDIVISION.

A sale of a tract of over fifty acres of ground situated beyond the city limits, on the line of the St. Louis & Suburban Railway, was sold to-day by the firm of M. A. Wolff & Co., from L. M. Hellman to W. E. Nelson, who was represented in the purchase by the firm of A. K. Florida & Co. The property is on the east side of the railway, about a quarter of a mile north of Easton avenue. It adjoins the Mt. Auburn tract immediately on the north in a new residence territory, which is being developed very fast on account of the reconstruction of the St. Louis & Suburban Railway. The purchase price of the property was $87,000. Florida & Co. say Mr. W. E. Nelson is going to subdivide and grade the site for residence purposes. There are just 51½ acres in the plot.

Wolff & Co. also report the following sales:

CITIZENS' MEETING TO-NIGHT.

A Big Gathering Is Expected at Entertainment Hall.

At 7:30 o'clock this evening the doors of Entertainment Hall at the Fourteenth street entrance of the Exposition will be thrown open to admit the public to the citizens' meeting, to be held in the hall for the purpose of discussing plans for illuminating and beautifying the city and entertaining the hundreds of thousands of persons who will visit St. Louis during the fall festivities seasons of the next three years, especially during the carnival season of the World's Fair year, 1892. At 8 o'clock to-night's meeting opens. The gentlemen in charge of the meeting positively refuse to give out any of the details, adhering to their original proposition, to let the public come and see for itself what has been prepared, and decide what shall be done in the future.

It is known, however, that a not insignificant feature of the attractions of to-night's meeting will be a painting by Noxon, extending the whole width of the stage, illustrating in panoramic effect a scene from one of the principal streets of St. Louis when lit up, as it will appear during the festival season. The celebrated scenic artist has been engaged at the work for months, and has just completed his task. The paint will have scarcely dried on the canvas when the picture will be unfolded before the audience to-night. A tour by a POST-DISPATCH reporter of the various committees composing the Autumnal Festivities Association, which was formed for the purpose of giving method to the work, found each committee reporting the last detail complete. The gentlemen of the different committees expressed themselves as sanguine that their efforts would meet with approval by the general public at the meeting to-night. Personally they would not be quoted, however, each modestly preferring to be considered only as an individual trying to do his share for the public good. One idea seems to prevail throughout this undertaking, that is, that the surest way to the greatest success is for all to work together and the credit to be attributed as a whole.

At to-night's meeting, the result of the efforts of those who have heretofore been engaged in the undertaking, which is for every one's good, will be submitted to for inspection of all. All that the gentlemen, who have kindly come forward and taken the initiatory steps in this most important movement, ask is that their fellow citizens attend the meeting to-night, and tell them what they think of their efforts. Those of these men, however, are already apprised of this by the expressions which have been received from thousands of citizens.

WILL ATTEND THE MEETING.

To indicate the interest which is being manifested in the meeting and the manner in which private interests are being set aside by citizens in order that time may be found to attend the meeting, it is worth noting the following notice which was received by the Executive Board of the Autumnal Festivities Association to-day:

THE FARM IMPLEMENT AND VEHICLE ASSOCIATION OF ST. LOUIS,
St. Louis, May 11, 1891.

To the Gentlemen of the Autumnal Festivities Association:

GENTLEMEN—Since receiving your notice we have changed the meeting of the Farm Implement and Vehicle Association, which was to take place to-night, as the members of our association, desire to attend the festival meeting at the Exposition, as we want the matter boomed for all it is worth. Respectfully,

GEO. K. OYLER, President.

THE POLICE WERE THERE.

But They Arrested No One, Though They Saw the Cutting.

Cut, cut, cut! Were the police there? Of course they were. They stood in front of the window. They saw the cutting done and no one arrested. Who did it? The Globe Shoe & Clothing Co., on Franklin avenue. The number? What's the use? Everybody in St. Louis knows the Globe as well as the post-office. Finest Baltimore Merchant Tailor Suits, Prince Alberts, Cutaways and Sacks, $30 and $35 garments, silk faced and piain, have been cut to $9.85 and $13.65.

The Bethel Society.

At the annual meeting of the Ladies' Bethel Society held at the Second Baptist Church Mrs. John A. Allen declined a renomination for the presidency of the society, to the regret of all the members. In token of their appreciation of Mrs. Allen's past services the ladies passed the following resolutions:

We, the ladies of the Bethel Board, with the deepest regret in this separation, desire to express thanks for her years of efficient service and congenial companionship. Her clear and just judgment and rare executive ability were ever manifested. Her Christian spirit and wise counsel always preserved perfect harmony.

We recognize Mrs. Allen as one of the founders of the Ladies' Bethel Aid Society, and as having placed it on a firm foundation for its thirteen years of successful work. Having the courage of her convictions, and rare administrative ability, with remarkable discretion, she proved a leader whom we delighted to follow; therefore,

Resolved, That this expression of regret and appreciation be sent to Mrs. Allen, and also placed on the records of the society.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously, and all of the members have personally expressed to Mrs. Allen their regret at her resignation.

Jealousy Causes a Shooting.

Edward Broemser of 305 North Seventh street shot Walter Ellis, aged 18, in front of the Hotel Belmont, 10 North Fourth, at 10 o'clock last night, in a quarrel about Fanny Walker, the 14-year-old daughter of the keeper of the hotel. Ellis boards at the hotel and met Broemser and Fanny walking at 9 o'clock last night on Chestnut, near Third. He advised her to go home, which she did in his company, leaving Broemser, words having passed between the men first, Ellis slapping Broemser's face. While Ellis was standing in front of the hotel later Broemser approached and the quarrel was resumed, which resulted in the shooting, the ball taking effect in Ellis' arm.

ON 'CHANGE.

Grain and Flour.

Wheat—This morning's opening was marked by great caution, no one seemingly being prepared to either buy or sell. The effect of the Government report had passed away or the high condition thought to have been pretty well discounted, and some bad crop news—bug damage from Kansas, principally, but some damage in Michigan and lack of rain in the Northwest—exerted some influence. So also did the colder weather and frosts last night and expected to-night. Foreign cables were bearish, those from London and Liverpool noting declines, weakness and dullness, with fine weather in England and on the Continent. The Indian shipments were large also. Financial news were not encouraging either, as stocks were lower in New York and money reported higher in London. Yet withal, the market after hanging irresolute for some time turned right firm. Receipts were much smaller in the Northwest, but fair otherwise and seaboard clearances from four ports only 7,000 pkgs flour and 57,000 bu wheat. The announcement that the Spanish duty on flour had been reduced two-thirds was a bullish factor. A good deal of uneasiness was felt, too, over the bug talk that came from many sections, mainly from Kansas, but some from this State and Illinois. All the late cables were lower, including London, Liverpool, Paris, Antwerp and Berlin, and this checked a growing bullish feeling. Then when the visible came in as only 126,000 bu decrease, though the decrease one year ago was only 107,000 bu, and the small falling off was due this year, as last, to the large amount on lakes and canal, yet as a large decrease had been looked for the effect was to run the price down rapidly, though reacting from the bottom. Dec. had freest sellers and at close was 1⅛c below Saturday, while July had sellers at that day's close and Aug. was ⅛c off.

July opened at 94⅛c and sold to 94⅛c to 95⅛c to 95⅛c to 94⅛c to 95⅛c to 94⅛c to 95⅛c to 95c to 95⅛@⅛c to 94⅛c to 95⅛c to 94⅛c to 94⅛c, and latter asked at close. Aug. opened at 93⅛c and sold to 93⅛c to 94⅛c to 93⅛@94c to 94⅛c to 93⅛c to 94⅛c to 93⅛c to 94⅛c to 93⅛c to 93⅛c to 93⅛c and 93⅛c bid at close. Dec. sold at 96⅛@⅛c to 96⅛c down to 96⅛c and at close 96c bid.

Spot Grades—Very few city millers were in the market and they devoted their attention to sample lots, leaving the grades to speculative buyers chiefly, who took nearly all that sold on the Call. Afterwards the principal carrier sold No. 2 to millers at the May price. Sales: No. 2 red—1 car regular at $1.01, 1 in U., 1 in St. L., 1 in C., and 2 regular at $1.01⅛, 3,000 bu this side at $1.02. No. 2 hard winter—1 car regular at 96c. No. 3 offered in U. at 99⅛c bid 98c, and for St. L. 97c bid. No. 2 hard wheat offered regular at 92⅛c, bid 91c for C. and 92c for St. L.

Samples—The market was about steady, with a good demand for all desirable milling lots. Sales: Special bin—1 car No. 3 at $1. East track—1 car No. 3 at $1.01. Sacks—137 at 92c, 251 at 95c, 18 at 98c, 71 at $1.01⅛, 89 at $1.02, 39 at $1.03⅛, 342 at $1.03⅛, 125 at $1.04.

Corn—The market declined ⅛@⅛c early, following lower prices at other points. Receipts were good, but the weather unfavorable for the growing crop and there was a rally from the early depression, the stronger wheat market having a beneficial effect. Some unfavorable reports on the crop, owing to late harvesting and alleged bug damage, checked selling somewhat. When wheat broke down late and the visible showed 593,000 bu increase, against 319,000 bu one year ago, the market weakened and at close was ⅛@⅛c below Saturday.

May sold at 57⅛c to 57⅛c to 58c back to 57⅛c and latter asked at close. July opened at 56⅛c and sold to 55⅛c, to 56⅛c, to 56⅛c, to 56⅛c, to 56⅛c, to 56⅛@⅛c, to 56c, and at close 26⅛c bid. No. 2 white for July offered at 60⅛c, bid 60⅛c.

Spot Grades were in good order demand and about steady, white showing rather more strength than on Saturday. All the offerings met with ready sale and the demand then not fully supplied. Sales: No. 2—1 car regular at 58c, 1 in U., 2 regular, 4 in C. and 7 in St. L. at 58⅛c, 2 in U. at 58⅛c, 4 this side (early) at 59c; latest bids were 58⅛c regular, 58⅛c for U. No. 2 white—1 car regular at 61c, 3 regular, 1 in Cdit., 4 in C. and 10 in St. L. at 61⅛c, 1 in U. at 62c, same bid for more there and 61⅛c for regular. No. 3 white 3 cars regular at 59⅛c and same bid for more. No. 3—4 cars in C. at 57⅛c; for E. side 58⅛c bid. No. 2 color offered regular at 59⅛c, bid 59c for St. L. No-grade offered regular at 56c, no bids.

Samples—Lower and very dull. Sales—Sks returned—114 sks mixed at 59c, 115 yellow and 173 mixed at 60c, 81 colory, at 60⅛c; 135 colory, at 62⅛c; 649 white, at 63c. Sacked lots on orders 66@68c.

Oats—Traders were not inclined to operate. Other markets were lower, but there were so many unfavorable reports from the crop that no one felt like selling. Aug. sold at 34c. May offered at 52⅛c, bid 51c; July at 42c and 41⅛c bid.

Spot Grades—No. 2 was offered in St. L. and C at 52⅛c and for St. L., 51⅛c bid.

Samples—Lower, with an active shipping demand at the decline, for No. 2 and No. 3. White was only salable to the local dealers, who were buying but little, causing a dull and quiet market. Sales: Special bin—2 cars No. 4 at 50c, 2 No. 3 at 51c, 17 No. 3 and 3 No. 3 color at 51⅛c, 9 No. 2 at 52c, 3 No. 2 and 1 No. 3 Northern at 52⅛c, 1 Northern mixed at 53c, 4 do and 3 No. 3 white at 53⅛c, 1 Northern mixed at 54c, 1 do at 54⅛c, 2 No. 2 white at 56⅛c. Hay and Millfeed.

Provisions.

Market again lower and an extremely dull and depressed market it was at the decline. Orders were few, and they were for small amounts generally, and one dealer was shading prices below what others would sell at and consequently doing most the business. ON THE STREET.

[The Post-Dispatch quotations are for lots in first hands, unless otherwise stated. Orders are filled with choice goods, and are charged higher.]

Berries and Fruits.

Strawberries—Arrivals yesterday were light, and to-day only moderate. Those arrived yesterday were Saturday's shipments, and in consequence of being carried over one day, together with last night's rain, were generally soft, moldy and in unfavorable shape. This morning's receipts came to hand in very fair shape. Demand continued good from the local trade, as well as from re-shippers, with latter taking only choice dry stock. The range for berries from Arkansas, Tennessee and Mississippi (Booneville), was from $1.50@2.25 for scarlets and poor to fair stock and from $2.25@2.75 ℔ 6-gallon case for good to choice—some that were in bad order sold as low as $1; top rates on foregoing for this morning's arrivals. Kentucky receipts were in fair shape, though some are still running green, small and dirty. Sales run from $2.25@2.50 per 6-gallon case for fair to good, and $2.75@3 for fancy. First receipts from Southeast Missouri were in (Lutesville and Glen Allen.) Those from first mentioned town were choice to fancy and brought $3@4 per 6-gallon case, but a case or two from latter place arrived broken and sold for less. Shippers are requested to fill boxes well up, as many are arriving slack filled.

Gooseberries—Selling slow at $1.50@2 per bu, as to size.

Apples—None received. A few bbls extra fancy Ben Davis were selling from store at $7.50@8.50 per bbl, inferior stock selling mainly to peddlers at nominal rates.

Dried Fruit—Receipts, 39 pkgs. Unchanged, but quiet. Quote: Sun-dried apples—Quarters, 9⅛@9½c; peelings, cores or chopped, 2c. Sun-dried peaches, nominal. Evaporated: Apples—Quarters at 10@11c; rings at 11½@12½c; old, wormy, dark, damp or wet fruit less and fancy more. A few small lots sold at quotations.

Pineapples—Quotable at $2.50 ℔ doz for choice to $3.00 for fancy Havana.

Persian Dates—Quotable at 4½@5½c ℔ ℔ for choice to fancy.

Commercial Notes.

Hot winds are said to be injuring wheat and oats in Hungary.

Stocks of wheat in Northwest country elevators decreased 154,000 bu last week.

It was reported that 6⅛ per cent was bid in London for Monday.

New Orleans cleared for Liverpool 18,200 bu wheat, and 44,794 bu corn.

The Spanish duty on American flour and corn has been reduced two-thirds.

The acreage in wheat this year will not be announced by the Government until June 10.

Weather clear and cool after heavy rain last night; 62 deg. at 12 o'clock. Local forecast: Fair, slightly cooler and light frost to-night.

A cable from Antwerp says: "Prospect of Belgium and French crops are becoming more favorable. Market weak, supplies being in excess of demand.

John Trompen, the tall sycamore of Hickman, Neb., says wheat is in fine condition in his State, but corn and oats about two weeks late. The corn is not above ground yet.

India's shipments of wheat last week were 400,000 bu. to United Kingdom and 760,000 bu. to Continent, a total of 1,160,000 bu., against 920,000 bu. the week before and 600,000 for corresponding week last year.

In the United Kingdom the spring sown cereals have gone back in condition during the past month, but the autumn sown still keeps a good plant, and is healthy, says the London Times, April 28.

Ten days ago the State entomologist of Kansas denied the presence of chinch bugs in that State and said the yellow appearance of the wheat in some sections was due to bad farming. He now admits that the chinch bug is in half the counties of the State.

Taking the 1,500,000 increase in acreage reported by State boards and adding it to the reported acreage last year at this time it is estimated on basis of the Government condition of 97.9 that it points to a winter wheat crop of 355,000,000 bu, 100,000,000 bu larger than last year's yield.

A number of large spring wheat farmers have been interviewed about the advisability of early or late seeding, and they reply that it depends on the season, some claiming that it is just as well to sow wheat as late as May 10 or later as to sow before that date.

Of the four mills in this city and St. Louis the Camp Springs and Hezel's are running on half time; the Saxony started up to-day for a few days' run and Kehlor's East St. Louis mill is now grinding out and will close in a day or so. The balance are all shut down, including Stanard's, Victoria, Regina, Goddard's, Plant's, St. George and Sessinghaus'. The non-profit in flour at the present price of wheat is the trouble.

Freights are holding their own at San Francisco, and from a ship-owner's standpoint, full of promise, on account of the favorable outlook for an abundant wheat harvest. During the past week, though, reports of wheat conditions in the San Joaquin Valley were disappointing, and caused firmer and higher markets. The spot freight market is firm at £2 2s 6d to Cork for orders with £2 5s nearer the views of most holders having desirable iron ships to offer.

Chicago Market Letters.

Private Wire to J. P. Grier.

Chicago, May 11.—Wheat opened fairly active at 99c for July, sold off to 98⅛c, up to $1.00⅛, and closes at 99⅛c. Foreign advices are weak. The demand for May option has been at times active, ranging from 4½c to 5c over July. Crop reports from the principal winter wheat States are good, but Kansas reports very badly from the Northern counties and some estimates as low as a half crop. Michigan also reports a less favorable outlook and in some parts of Minnesota complaints of want of rain are heard. The immediate future is still a question of weather and what our invisible supply is. We believe in higher prices until our harvest is secured. To-day's trading is up to about the average, but the excitement has been less.

Corn fairly active. The opening price for July was 59c, sold down to 57⅛c and closes at 58⅛c. There is no special feature to it. The old bull party were moderate sellers. One local short was a free buyer. The car lot demand is good. Future values we think a good deal a weather question.

The same remark applies to oats. The growing crop is not reported as good.

Hog products quiet. July pork closed at $11.75; lard, 6.62c; ribs, 6 10c. F. G. Logan & Co.

Special to J. R. Hamlin:

Chicago, May 4.—Wheat—The trading to-day has consisted chiefly of "swapping jack knives" among our local scalpers, although for a short time on the early weakness there was good buying for New York and St. Louis account, which was induced by the news that Spain had removed two-thirds of her import duty on Foreign grain. News was rather meagre. The tone of the cables was decidedly weak, although those received early did not quote prices lower. Traders were much disappointed at finding the decrease in the visible supply only 126,000, the large shipments from Duluth having reappeared on the lakes. The Government report, which improved the condition of winter wheat from 96.9 last month to 97.9, was not unexpected.

Corn bulled early on the covering of shorts, but was dull until after the noon hour, when the break was started by the decline in wheat. The receipts of corn—650 cars for to-morrow—were considered large. We can see but one side to this deal, which is the short side on bulges.

Oats were firm early, but very dull, and broke later in sympathy with corn. Shippers say that cash demand for both oats and corn is less pressing than it has been.

Provisions were dull and weak under pressure from bear scalpers. When the market struck $12 for Sept. pork a large number of buying orders were developed, many of which were unfilled at the close. The market looks heavy, and it will take better outside buying than we are having at present to prevent somewhat further decline. W. G. McCormick & Co.

Chicago, Ill., May 11.—Early cables indicate a rather quiet and easy wheat market. Aside from this the news was bullish. Logan & Co. had a dispatch from Winfield, Kan., saying that the crop in that and the adjoining county north was a failure, and that farmers were plowing up their field. A dispatch from Michigan estimated a reduction of 2 per cent in the condition of the crop during the past week. Another firm in Minnesota said that without rain within the next two weeks the crop would be a complete failure. The trading was not very heavy, operations being inclined to wait developments. The feeling, however, was firm. July opened at 98⅛@99c, touched 99⅛c, fluctuated frequently between 99⅛c and 99⅛c and at 11 o'clock stood at 98⅛c. Corn was quiet and lower abroad. July touched 57⅛c as the lowest, after opening at 55⅛@⅛c, sold at 56⅛c, and at 11 o'clock stood at 56⅛c. Provisions opened weak and lower on heavy receipts of hogs and lower prices, firmed up some in sympathy with wheat, but returned to about opening figures. Wheat—May, $1.04⅛; July, 99⅛c. Butter Famine in New York.

New York, May 11.—On Saturday a butter famine developed in Washington Market, the dealers being unable to get enough to supply their retail trade. Imperative orders sent to Western dealers come back unfilled, and the situation is serious. James Kay, a New York butter dealer for the past thirty-seven years, says that he has never known butter so scarce. The scarcity is not caused by a corner, but is owing to short grain crops, the cows kept by the big creameries having to be fed on grain. Some market men have bought up Canada butter, but it is declared to be very inferior.

LIVE STOCK.

Union Stock Yards.

Don. N. Palmer, Manager; W. A. Ramsey, Secretary. Market closes 3 p. m.

Cattle—The chief arrivals of cattle to-day at the Union Yards consisted of common to medium grades, there being but slight receipts of good stuff such as hardy butcher steers, cows and heifers, etc., for which there was a good demand and not a supply. Inasmuch as common stuff was almost too plentiful, owing to heavy receipts recently, the market was easier 5@10 cents in a number of sales made this morning, while everything in the line of good to choice sold steady at last week's prices as noted below:

Grades.	Price ℔ 100 ℔s.
Fancy steers, 1,400 to 1,650 ℔s	$ 6 00 to $ 6 35
Choice steers, 1,300 to 1,450	5 60 to 5 90

Butcher steers, 1,000 to 1,100	4 50 to 5 00
Stockers and feeders	2 25 to 3 25
Good to choice feeders	3 50 to 4 25
Choice cows and heifers	4 00 to 4 65
Fleshy cows and heifers	2 75 to 4 00

641 retail from $3 to $5.60.

Hogs—The hog market continued barely steady to-day at Saturday's close. Prices ranged in extremes from $3 to $5, with skipps and culls from $3 to $3.50; rough packing, $3.60 to $4; fair to good from $4.10 to $4.50; good to choice, $4.60 to $4.90; selects, $4.90@5. The supply of common, soft and half-fat hogs was liberal. The sale for that class of hogs is slow, and prices easy. The representative sales to-day were:

Sheep—The receipts of sheep to-day were again below the demands of the market. The demand continues strong and prices high for fair to fancy sheared sheep.

Wall Street.

New York, May 11, 11 a. m.—The stock market opened in New York with a decidedly active business, and although first prices were irregularly changed from the finals of Saturday, a weak tone was soon developed under a heavy selling pressure. The weakness was most apparent in a few spots, however, and, as might be expected, the industrials were most conspicuous in the downward movement, Cordage dropping 2 per cent to 96⅛ and Chicago Gas 1½ to 48⅛. In the railroad list while there was sympathy with this weakness the losses were on a much smaller scale and a few stocks, like Louisville & Nashville, displayed considerable strength in the face of the falling market. The support was so evident that the selling pressure was materially diminished later in the hour and all the active stocks recovered the early losses and scored small gains in addition, Louisville, St. Paul, Burlington and Sugar leading the upward movement. The decrease in activity was marked in the late dealings and the best prices were not in all cases maintained, but at 11 o'clock the market was still active and firm, generally at small fractions better than the opening prices.

Money easy at 4@4½ per cent. The activity in the stock market after 11 o'clock was only moderate and the upward movement made but slight further progress, but the best prices were generally reached, and the recovery from the lowest prices approached 1 per cent from the lowest figures. The dealings developed no special feature of interest and the later trading brought a slight reaction. At noon the market was fairly active and steady, but still at small fractions higher than the opening prices.

CENTER OF POPULATION.

Unveiling of the Monument Marking the Spot Near Columbus, Ind.

COLUMBUS, Ind., May 11.—The unveiling of the monument at the center of population of the United States, twenty miles east of this city, yesterday afternoon was an important event and will go into history as the second of the kind in the past 100 years, the first being in 1810 and the place twenty-three miles west of Washington City in the District of Columbia, where yet remains a flat stone on which was then cut "The Center of Population." The monument just erected is of colitic limestone, taken from Bedford (Ind.) quarries, weight four tons, height fifteen feet with the inscription, "Center of Population, United States."

Will you take time to come into our store; this is all we want—to begin with—the result will take care of itself.

We are confident that if you will once visit our establishment we can soon make a customer of you. For artistic cutting and fitting at moderate prices our reputation is unequalled. Our spring stock of woolens is the greatest in the West.

Public Library Board Organizes.

There was a fair attendance at the meeting of the Public Library Board Saturday afternoon. The new board chosen at the election Tuesday, organized by re-electing Rev. J. C. Learned, President, and Jack P. Richardson, Vice President. Reports were presented by the various standing committees, showing a healthy growth of the institution. In March and April 600 volumes were added to the collection, 113 by donation. The issue for these two months was considerably in excess of that for the corresponding months of last year. There was some informal discussion of a project for establishing delivery stations. President Learned stated that an additional appropriation of $2,000 would enable the board to establish ten delivery stations in various parts of the city, which would make the library useful to thousands to whom it is not now accessible.

TWO GREAT RACES.

This Week's Kentucky Derby and Brooklyn Handicap.

WHY KINGMAN AND TENNY SHOULD PROVE THE WINNERS.

Jockeys' Services and Salaries—Anson as a Base Ball Captain—Hardy Richardson Missed by Boston—Macon Explains Why Sullivan Should Whip Slavin—Sporting News of All Kinds.

Two celebrated races are to be run this week. The Kentucky Derby will be contested at Louisville Wednesday next and the Brooklyn Handicap at Gravesend on Friday. There are richer stakes run in the West than the former event—notably the American Derby at Chicago—but the historic Kentucky race is the only one on which winter books are made. It is a race of a mile and a half for 3-year-olds and this will be the seventeenth annual competition for the stake, the first Derby having been run in 1875, when it was won by Aristides, a horse now owned in this city. Although no longer a rich stake compared with many other races, the Kentucky Derby is one of the classic events of the American turf, and to win it is considered a distinguished honor. This year the race is rather an open one. Eleven or twelve horses are expected to start, but not one of them can be called a crackerjack. Compared with the Eastern flyers they are a lot of good second and third-rate performers, but that is all. Of the lot Kingman is probably the best and despite the fact that he will carry a heavy penalty he should win. Balgowan is generally regarded as his most dangerous rival and many prefer the latter to Kingman at the distance and with his advantage in weight regard Balgowan as a sure thing. Georgetown, Valleria, Tom Rodgers, Allen Bane and Ethel are the other probable starters who are regarded as dangerous. Ethel being a filly her chances are despised. Yet she can probably defeat any of the last named horses. The race, however, is likely to be between Kingman and Balgowan, with chances in favor of the former.

* * *

The Brooklyn Handicap is one of the richest stakes on the American turf. In fact it is the richest of any race for horses of all ages, far exceeding in monetary value the great Suburban Handicap run later at Sheepshead Bay, although the latter is considered the blue-ribbon event of the turf for all-aged horses. Now that Tenny is to start in the Brooklyn he will undoubtedly be a red-hot favorite in the betting and despite the fact that he has the top weight, Pulsifer's horse should win. Teuton, one of the Western candidates, will not start it is declared. He would scarcely have cut any figure in the race even if he had started despite the fact that considerable Kentucky money has been bet on him. Uncle Bob is not good enough to win, and Riley at 120 pounds is out of the question even if he starts. Billy Lakeland's Tea Tray at 116 pounds looks like the most dangerous horse Tenny will have to meet. Stories are circulated about the phenomenal trials of Judge Morrow and Prince Royal, and both are being heavily backed. Aside from Tenny and Tea Tray, Burlington at 120 pounds appears about the best play in the race, and the winner should be found among those three. It is barely possible that smooth Johnny Campbell may land the race with Cassius or Castaway II., each of whom is in at 115 pounds. Tenny's alleged breakdown appears to have been merely a shrewd ruse of his owner, "Sure-thing Dave Pulsifer," to obtain good odds against the horse and keep others off him until the owner of the swayback had placed all the money he desired.

* * *

A couple of years ago, when Hamilton rode for the late Senator Hearst, it was the subject of remark that the noted jockey was the recipient of a larger salary than was paid his employer to represent the State of California at the national capital, says the New York Herald. Not only were the emoluments attaching to the two positions in favor of the former, but it is probable that the notoriety gained by Hamilton on account of the position achieved by the legislator. That the combination of 1889 did not prove altogether a happy one was scarcely due to the lack of ability on the part of the jockey. The limited success of the Senator's stable that year did not demonstrate that the laborer was not worthy of his hire, but rather that the poor caliber of the horses comprising it and their lack of condition, coupled with a little bad luck, were mainly instrumental in bringing about their partial failure.

There are three things requisite for the successful conduct of a racing stable. In the first place, it must be composed of good animals. Then they must be well trained, and next, they must be judiciously and skilfully ridden. These three things are absolutely necessary, and in addition it is important, in order to realize the fruition of one's hopes, that fortune should favor the venture. With the ever increasing magnitude of the sport the jockey becomes a more and more important personage. In the old days of long-distance racing and few contestants the quality of the horse, and not skill in the saddle, was the prime factor in achieving victory. Under the modern system of short dashes and large fields of starters much more is dependent upon the competency of the jockey.

That the large salaries and perquisites received by capable jockeys are not out of proportion to the value of their services is shown by the amount of money won by the horses ridden by them. The retainers of successful riders range from $5,000 to $12,000 a year or racing season, as the contract stipulates. Frequently, the salary is all that is paid. In some cases a jockey receives a percentage of his winnings. In others, he is paid so much additional for a winning mount and so much for a losing one. When his services are not in demand by his stable, by reason of its not having a starter in a race, the privilege is usually accorded him to accept an outside engagement. In such an event the rules provide that he shall receive $35 if he wins and $10 if he loses, but in the first flush of enthusiasm a liberal owner who has won largely on the success of a horse will compensate the victorious jockey to a much larger extent. Not infrequently he is what is termed "staked" before the race—that is, the owner presents him with a pool ticket calling for a certain amount provided he wins. The jockey thus has nothing to lose and sometimes a great deal to gain if the horse is at a long price in the betting.

* * *

Mr. Corrigan says of Riley and the Brooklyn Handicap: "He goes into Green B. Morris' hands. If he decides that the colt is well and fit for the Brooklyn Handicap he can start him. My opinion is that he will not, as Riley is fat and a bad traveler." The chances are that Riley, barring accidents, will start Friday. George Taylor will ride him, and if he starts, the son of Longfellow will have a great chance. Of his other horses, Mr. Corrigan said: "Ethel goes from Lexington to Louisville and will start in the Oaks. Brookwood positively goes in the Clark stakes. Both are declared out of the Kentucky Derby. Huron will start in both the Runnymede and Alexander stakes."

About the talked of match of Ethel against Ida Pickwick, Mr. Corrigan said: "I believe that I was robbed out of the 2,000 stakes at Nashville by a conspiracy by which Ida Pickwick carried ten pounds less weight than she was allotted. I have offered to match Ethel against Ida Pickwick for $5,000 a side at the weights carried in the 2,000 and am willing to use the same riders and run at Louisville. The offer has been termed a bluff. Let them try me. The fillies do not, as has been stated, meet in the Kentucky Oaks Stakes. Ida Pickwick is not entered in the stakes." In speaking of weight trickery he said: "I know it is frequently practiced and once saw a fellow drop a ten-pound surcingle when the jockey fell so that the boy could pick it up with his scattered outfit and make up the ten pounds that had been stolen in the race. The scales at Nashville were probably fixed for Ida Pickwick."

Old-fashioned ways in washing need strength in the washer and strength in what is washed. The modern way is to use Pearline. It saves labor for weak backs; it saves wear to delicate fabrics. It cleans houses as well as it washes clothes, and what it does, it does safely. Millions use it. Pearline is soap's successor; where soap fails, Pearline succeeds.

BASE BALL.

Adrian C. Anson of Chicago is a remarkable man. His ability as a captain of a base ball team has been severely tested, and never yet has it been found wanting. He has captained teams composed of all star players, and he has held them in line and made them secure the position in the championship race for their teams to which it was entitled by reason of the individual merit of the players. A few years ago Spalding and Anson let go of several of the star players of the Chicago Club, receiving large sums for their releases. The Chicago management was roundly condemned for avarice, but Anson accomplished wonders with the young and green players who displaced his stars and everybody was satisfied. Then the Brotherhood trouble came on and robbed the Chicago team of almost every player of value it possessed. With a new team of colts Anson finished second in the League race last year to the utter surprise of everybody, for all expected to find his team at the bottom of the list. This season Anson is treating the base ball world to still another surprise. With a team but little better than he had last season he is now leading in the League race, despite the fact that this season he has to contend with some of the strongest nines ever placed on a ball field. He will scarcely hold the position long, however, for so far he has only been playing the Western clubs, and they are very weak. When his organization goes up against the strong Eastern teams Chicago is apt to take a decided tumble. But Anson is not only a wonder as a manager. He is a remarkable player, as well. Despite the fact that he is perhaps the oldest player in the field, he is one of the best. No doubt this is due to the fact that he has always led an exemplary life, and keeps himself in the very best of condition.

HARDY RICHARDSON'S MISHAP.

When Hardy Richardson recently broke one of the small bones of his leg in a base ball game the Boston Association Club sustained a severe loss. Richardson is one of the greatest ball players that ever lived. As a batsman he has few equals and he can acceptably fill almost any position in the nine. In any of the out-field positions he is a great man and he has proved himself a first-class second baseman and shortstop. He can also play third or first base. Then he is a splendid base runner and best of all he is a man who always takes care of himself, works hard for his team and never gives the management the least trouble. The big head is an ailment unknown to him, and he is a general favorite with both public and players. Richardson's recent misfortune was regretted by everybody and there is no base ball organization so strong that it would not seriously feel the loss of the services of such a player. It certainly has made quite a difference to Boston.

YALE STILL REFUSES TO PLAY.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 11.—There will be no base ball games this year between the Yale and Harvard University teams. This is Yale's decision after considering Harvard's latest statement. Capt. Calhoun, who has had charge of the matter consulted with the Yale alumni and professors interested in base ball and has decided to adhere to the position taken last week in the letter declining to play Harvard this year. In Yale's second letter Capt. Calhoun reiterates Yale's position, declaring that the Harvard captain and manager met Yale and Princeton at Springfield and in good faith arranged a series of games with these colleges. Now because Harvard has failed to keep her side of the agreement, Yale declines to make any further arrangements for a series of games this year.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES.

There were no games played yesterday in either the National League or American Association, the former never playing Sunday games and the Western teams of the Association being at present in the East, where base ball is not indulged in on the Sabbath. The Western Association, however, played its full schedule of four games as follows:

At Milwaukee: Milwaukee, 20; Kansas City, 5.
At St. Paul: St. Paul, 9; Lincoln, 2.
At West Superior, Wis.: Minneapolis, 6; Denver, 4.
At Sioux City: Omaha, 2; Sioux City, 1.

THE RING.

Criticising Sullivan's failure to make a match with Slavin, Macon writes:

"But," I hear some captious critic say, "Sullivan would have no chance with Slavin. If they did meet the Australian would punch holes in him." After seeing Slavin box last night in the ghost of a fight with Jim Daly of Philadelphia and spar with "Charley Mitchell of England" I am not so sure of that. There is not the slightest doubt in my mind that Slavin is a wonderful fighter, quick as a flash and a good, stiff puncher, too, but if Sullivan is Sullivan Frank's style would suit him to an ellipice. When he knocked big Joe McAuliffe stiff Billy Madden said to Richard K. Fox: "There is only one man in the ring that can do this fellow and that is Sullivan. If I had Sullivan for three or four months and he had to train as I wanted I can make him lick Slavin. Now, you have never had a champion. Offer to back Sullivan against Slavin for $10,000, with me as his trainer." Fox did offer to back Sullivan for $25,000, but Sullivan contemptuously refused the proffer.

Speaking of Slavin's offer to knock Jake Kilrain out in six rounds, which I thought risky, Madden said to me: "It's a perfectly safe one. He'll either knock out Jake in six rounds or be knocked out himself, for he goes right at a man like a bull at a red flag. His style is not artistic, but he won't be defined and keeps punching away for dear life all the time, and he is a hard puncher, too." That is just exactly the way he fights, but I never yet saw the man who could stand up to Sullivan and exchange hits with him with any hope of success. I think that if Sullivan was in as good condition as he was the day he beat Jake Kilrain at Richburg and Slavin was to go at him, as he did at Daly and Mitchell last night, the fight would not last above four rounds, and when it was over I think Sullivan would still be "The champion of champions."

At all events, if Sullivan had taken the course above indicated, he would have had over a year in which to accumulate a harvest of dollars, which now I am inclined to think will be very slim. His best patrons, the gallery "gods," have no use for a "had been," and presently they'll sing as he passes by:

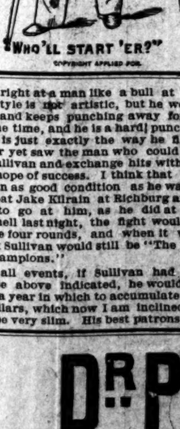

He used to be there champion,
But he ain't so now.
He used ter be the champion,
Till Slavin nailed him down.
He used ter be the champion,
Of world-wide renown,
He used ter, but he ain't so now.

Perhaps he may be again. Quien sabe?

SPORTING NOTES.

A telegram from Baltimore says: "The new base ball grounds here will be opened today with the St. Louis Club as the attraction. It will be the biggest base ball event of the season."

Among the coming athletic events is the annual sports and picnic of the Scottish Clans, to be given this year at Belleville, Ill., on July 4. All the standard contests will be on the programme and the prizes will be fully up to those of previous years.
